Condensed Telegrams from All Quarters.

—John T. Tully, a well-known detective of New York, died on Saturday.

—Five thousand people attended a Grangers' pic-nic near Fort Wayne, Ind., on Saturday.

—It has been definitely ascertained that forty-seven persons were lost by the burning of the steamer Pat Rogers.

—Some anxiety is felt at the non-arrival of a vessel which left Norway on July 21 with one hundred families from Iceland for Halifax.

—John Stanton Gould, the scientist, died in Hudson, N. Y., on Saturday of congestion of the lungs, in the sixty-third year of his age.

—The most destructive fire known in Montreal, Canada, for years, broke out on Sunday morning. The fire lasted five hours, and about $250,000 worth of property was destroyed. One life was lost.

—Milton S. Latham, one of the defendants in the case of Michael Reese against the California Pacific Railroad, publishes a card denying Reese's allegations of fraud, saying further, that all his relations with the company were such as any business man or banker might honorably assume.

—Last Saturday night, A. C. Y. Burton, colored, a candidate for the Tennessee Legislature, was shot and mortally wounded at Braden's Station, on the Memphis and Louisville Railroad, by some unknown person, which caused intense excitement among the negroes in the vicinity, and a riot was feared, but at last accounts all was quiet.

—The Vulcan Iron Works, at Wilkesbarre, on Saturday, paid their striking workmen. Soon afterward the men again resolved that they would not go to work at the reduced rates. The company have employed a few men from Scranton, and have received an offer from a labor agency in New York to furnish skilled Italian workmen with an English speaking foreman.

—In Mansfield, Ohio, about daylight on Sunday morning, John Maguire discovered a burglar in his room, attempting to remove his pants from under his pillow. Maguire sprang up and grappled with the burglar, and in the melee the latter shot the former, the ball passing through his lungs, and producing, it is thought, a fatal wound. The burglar escaped shoeless and hatless.

Particulars of the Riot at Somerville.

MEMPHIS, August 8.—Capt. Harvey Mathes, editor of the Evening Ledger of this city, who returned from Somerville this afternoon, gives the following account of the riot, or rather what threatened to become one, at Somerville, yesterday: The election of the day before had been hotly contested, and many negroes had attended the polls during the day heavily armed, and some had openly threatened to burn the town. During the day a prominent negro politician named Cash Warren had cursed and abused a young brother of Mayor Hendon, and yesterday encountering Mayor Hendon on the street, began to abuse him, and finally snapped a pistol twice in the Mayor's face, who then drew a pistol and shot him dead. Almost simultaneously two or three shots were fired at the negro by friends of the Mayor, who had collected there, among whom was Oscar Burton, a young man noted for being an excellent shot, who was charged with firing at Warren when he met his death by the negroes, and who became very much incensed at the death of Warren, and threatened to kill Burton, who about eleven o'clock appeared on the streets, armed with a double barreled shot gun and pistols. Judge J. G. Reeves, Albert Reeves, Sheriff elect, and another brother named Paul, attempted to arrest and disarm Burton, and owing to a report that a body of negroes were marching into town, Burton refused to be arrested, and they opened fire on him, wounding him severely in four different places. He returned the fire with his gun, mortally wounding Paul and Albert, and then fell himself, but raising himself on his elbow, drew his pistol and shot J. G. Reeves in the shoulder, inflicting a dangerous wound, but not necessarily fatal. A party of negroes who had congregated then opened fire on Burton, shooting him in a number of places, and one rushing up, put a pistol to his back and fired. In all he received thirteen wounds, and if any prove fatal, which the doctors doubt, it will be the one last mentioned.

The excitement that followed was intense. Reports spread that negro runners had been sent to the country to stir up various colored societies, and Memphis was telegraphed to for aid. Many negroes left town, as was supposed, to procure reinforcements, among whom was Williamson, who, in a speech during the canvass, had said if the Civil Rights bill was not passed he would ride in blood up to his bridle bits, and who was captured at Moscow last night, but escaped afterwards. On the arrival of the military from Memphis they found the citizens in arms and the town under strict patrol. Their arrival was hailed with great joy by the white citizens, and at the earnest request of citizens Captain Dainean's Chickasaw Guards agreed to remain until Monday, while the remainder returned home this evening.

THE PHILADELPHIA MYSTERY.

No Light on the Ross Abduction Case—Changed Attitude of the Philadelphia Newspapers—Other Theories Than Kidnapping for Ransom Suggested—Strange Conduct of Mr. Ross.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing from Philadelphia, says the police are in despair over the Ross child stealing case. Not a trace has been discovered of the boy, of the two men who carried him away, or of the yacht-bodied buggy in which they are said to have decamped. The private detectives, who are supposed to have more genius for their business than the politicians of the city force, have been no more fortunate. One step has been gained, however, which may in the end lead to a solution of the mystery. A doubt as to the kidnapping of the child for ransom has at last got possession of the mind of every one who has studied the case. Now, the dominant idea is that people, press, and police have been on a false scent all the time. A thorough investigation of the antecedents, surroundings, and business and social connections of the Ross family is now demanded by public sentiment, and the publication of fac similes of the letters received by Mr. Ross requiring $20,000 ransom is insisted on as essential to the further progress toward clearing up the mystery. New theories to explain the strange affair begin to be discussed by the city papers, which until lately refused to entertain any other notion than that the missing child had been abducted by bold thieves to extort money from the distressed parents. One paper, The German Democrat, goes so far as to hint that the boy has been murdered, and insists that the house and grounds of the father should be searched. Other journals hint at family troubles as a probable clue, and begin to touch upon suspicious circumstances connected with the affair which have heretofore been mooted only in private conversation. The popular demand for the publication of the letters promises soon to be so imperative that Mr. Ross will be obliged to comply with it, or the police to force him to. His only excuse for keeping them secret is that some of them contain abuse of his wife. This very fact, however, is an additional argument in favor of laying them before the public, for it promises to furnish a clue that will lead to the detection of the writers. If the letters actually contain reflections on Mrs. Ross, the case assumes a new aspect at once, for it is evident that such expressions would not be written by kidnappers who sought money only as the result of their crime. Mr. Ross has determinedly refused to let the correspondence be printed. Yesterday he was offered $1,000 for it by the representative of a newspaper, and replied that no amount of money would induce him to allow the letters to be printed. It is extraordinary that the police have not taken them out of his hands before this, but then, the whole affair is surrounded with just such perplexing circumstances. As far as can be learned, no policeman has yet been inside of Mr. Ross' house, nor has any rigid examination been made by any of the members of the family and the servants. A well-known detective, not on the city force, who has worked three weeks on the case, has reached the conclusion that a family secret lies at the bottom of the kidnapping, and that it is useless to proceed further on the supposition that it is a simple affair of abduction for ransom. Meanwhile the Mayor's police are still beating about in the dark and falling back on their old theory that the child is concealed somewhere in the and city, have begun a general search of all the houses within the corporate limits.

THE GREAT SCANDAL.

Saturday Devoted to Interviewing.

Tilton Captured Twice by Reporters.

The Proposed Suit Against Beecher.

NEW YORK, August 8, 1874.

General Butler on the Scene.

Reports of interviews, with little in them, and speculations are only made public to-day about the great Brooklyn scandal. Mr. Beecher has gone to Peekskill, and the committee and counsel are out of town. General Butler has arrived in the city, and to a reporter who called on him he said he did not desire to talk about the case at all, and did not.

Moulton's Statement.

Mr. Moulton has concluded his statement. It is said to be very long and to contain no allusion to the difficulty between Rev. Henry Ward Beecher and Mr. Henry C. Bowen.

Moulton Interviewed.

Mr. Moulton was caught in his house by an interviewer, and asked: "Was your reference to Mrs. Hooker in your letter to Mr. Beecher intended to create a presumption of the guilt of the latter or designed simply to indicate the character of some of the documents in your possession? I ask this because some of Mr. Beecher's friends charge the former object." Mr. Moulton said, in reply, "The letter referred to in your inquiry was regarded by me at the time it was written as a private note, which I never supposed would be published. It has been published through no instrumentality of mine, and such being the case, I decline to say anything further about it than that the reference alluded to was not intended to create the presumption of Mr. Beecher's guilt, nor was it designed to indicate the nature of the documents in my possession."

Another Interview.

A gentleman connected with the case, being asked what the committee proposed to do if Mr. Moulton should offer his statement, but should decline to submit to a cross-examination, said the committee would then decline to receive Mr. Moulton's statement at all, and if Moulton should then make public his statement, they would simply have to go before the country on such a state of facts and let the people decide the question. It is certain the committee would receive from Moulton the documents if he should elect to turn them over without any statement, but should he weave those documents into a statement in which he should characterize those papers and draw conclusions from them, and then decline to submit to a cross-examination, the committee would certainly refuse to accept such statement.

Tilton Captured by Reporters.

Mr. Tilton was captured twice by reporters while on his way from his residence to his lawyer's office, and stopped long enough to say in answer to the question: "Was not the fact of Moulton making his statement in advance of Beecher's an advantage to the latter?" "That I (Tilton) neither desire nor need an advantage. I do not wish to humiliate Mr. Beecher needlessly. If a statement of my case first will save Mr. Beecher one needless word which he might wish to recall, I am very glad to render him this service. He needs all the charity which it is in my power to bestow. I am receiving a vindication every time that any real fact in this matter comes out, and I am so near my full and final vindication that I can afford to wait a little longer."

To the question, "Did you ever see the letter which Mr. Beecher wrote to your wife after the Woodhull disclosures, the letter that alludes to 'Theodore still loving her,'" Mr. Tilton answered, "Why, I carried it to Elizabeth. It was written for her that she might show it to her friends and satisfy herself."

Tilton's Suit Against Beecher.

Ex-Judge Morris, counsel for Mr. Tilton, says: "The suit which Mr. Tilton proposes to bring against Mr. Beecher has no reference to the action of the committee whatever. When Mr. Tilton announced his intention not to appear before the committee again, and his instructions were given to his counsel to begin a suit against Mr. Beecher, he meant exactly what he said. The action of the committee will neither hasten nor delay the commencement of the suit, which will be brought in the Supreme Court. It will be an action against Mr. Beecher for criminal connection with Mrs. Tilton. The amount of damages claimed will be in accordance with the magnitude of the suit, but Mr. Tilton's purpose in bringing the action is not to receive any pecuniary benefit, but simply to vindicate his good name against the atrocious slanders to which he has been subjected. So far as Mr. Tilton is concerned the case will be pressed for trial at the earliest possible day."

Bowen Denies Being Interviewed.

Henry C. Bowen telegraphs he has had no interview with any person on the Brooklyn scandal, and characterizes the alleged interview with him published in a Brooklyn paper yesterday as a stupendous fraud from beginning to end.

The Races.

SARATOGA, New York, August 11.—The first day's races of the second meeting of the Saratoga Association was fairly attended, notwithstanding the threatening weather. Owing to the rain of yesterday the track was very heavy. The first race was the Kentucky stakes for two year olds—distance one mile. There were fifty nominations, out of which ten horses started, as follows: Risk, James A., Chesapeake, Calvin, Caroline, Rhademantus, Willie Burke, Leader, Kingbolt and Holbrook. Chesapeake lead from the start, and won by three quarters of a length, James A. second and Willie Burke third. Time 1:48¼.

ROCHESTER, August 8.—The Board of Directors of the Driving Park Association to-day resolved to give a purse of one thousand dollars to any horse that will, during the week, beat Goldsmith Maid's time of 2:15¼. Goldsmith Maid will make an effort to beat her own time.

Cricket.

LONDON, August 8.—A cricket match between the Americans and the Richmond Club commenced at Richmond to-day. The weather was fine and the ground in excellent condition for play. The number of spectators when the game begun was small, but as the play progressed increased to about one thousand. The Englishmen went first to bat, and when the play was stopped for lunch had scored sixty-three, with the loss of eight wickets. Two of their number were bowled out, five caught out, and one run out. Harry Wright took one of the Englishmen's wickets and McBride the other.

When the game was resumed the Richmonds added forty-five to their score, and retired for the first inning, with a total score of one hundred and eight. When the Englishmen had finished their innings the Americans went to bat, and at five o'clock, when the game was suspended for the day, had scored forty five runs, with five out.

The cricket was succeeded by a game of base ball, which lasted two hours, and was won by the Athletics by a score of eleven to three. The fielding of the Americans, particularly their catching, was much admired. During the day a photographic picture of the Americans and the Richmond Club was taken.

Aquatic.

OIL CITY, PA., August 8.—The four-oared race, one and a half miles and return, between the Columbia crew of Pittsburgh and the Third ward crew of Oil City for two hundred dollars a side, came off this evening. For the first half mile the Oil City's were ahead, but the Columbias spurted and took the lead, winning easily by ten lengths. Time 21.05, as given by the referee.

FAIRPOINT, N. Y.

Sunday School Assembly.

FAIRPOINT, N. Y., August 8.—The Sunday School Assembly grows in numbers and enthusiasm. On Thursday Bishop James lectured on "Sympathy," H. C. Trumbull on "The Superintendent," and Mrs. Willing on "Temperance." A concert under the direction of Philip Phillips and a display of beautiful stereoptican views closed the day's proceedings. Many of the leading Sunday School workers were present. Yesterday morning Rev. Dr. L. F. Townsend, author of "The Creeds," delivered a lecture on "The Sunday School and the Scientists." A repetition of the lecture has been called for. John B. Gough spoke in the afternoon to about three thousand person. Dr. C. H. Fowler, of Chicago, lectured in the evening on "Moses." Rev. Dewitt Talmage will preach on Wednesday next.

FAIRPOINT, August 9.—Saturday was "children's day" at the Sunday School Assembly. An audience of 5,000 people met in the auditorium. The meeting was presided over by Rev. J. S. Ostrander, of New Jersey. Addresses were delivered by Mrs. Willing of Illinois, and Rev. W. F. Crafts of New Hampshire. Frank Bears gave the children a caricature lecture, which was enthusiastically received by both old and young.

In the evening Prof. W. H. Perine gave a lecture of two hours on Syria and Palestine, illustrated by his panorama.

To-day all has been quiet, no boats being allowed to land at the docks. The Assembly was held at nine o'clock under the superintendence of Prof. P. G. Gillette, of Illinois. One thousand persons attended the service, and it was a magnificent success. Rev. F. H. Marting, of Canada, preached at eleven o'clock. This afternoon a platform meeting was held by Rev. Isaac Crook, of Ohio, Rev. Dr. Ives, of New York, Rev. Dr. Chapin, of Wisconsin, and Hon. H. P. Haven, of Connecticut. To-night a sermon will be preached by W. C. Walling.

The Wisconsin Railroad Case.

MILWAUKEE, August 8.—The Supreme Court did not adjourn over to-day, and the arguments in the railroad injunction suit were continued. Hon. B. C. Cook, attorney for the North Western Railroad, occupied most of the day with an argument as to the jurisdiction of the Court. Considerable confidence is expressed here from remarks of Chief Justice Ryan, yesterday, that the Court will refuse to issue an injunction, on the ground that it has not original jurisdiction.

The District Commissioners Consolidating Offices.

Suffering Among the Homestead Settlers in Northwestern Iowa.

WASHINGTON, August 8, 1874.

Suffering Among the Homestead Settlers in Northwestern Iowa.

Adjutant General Baker, of Iowa, writes to Commissioner Bardett, of the General Land Office, representing that there is great suffering among the homestead settlers in the northwestern counties of the State, owing to the visitation of grasshoppers, and setting forth the hardships of requiring settlers to go sometimes fifty and sometimes two hundred miles to make final proof of occupancy of their farms at local land offices. He suggests that hereafter local land officers be required to visit the county seats on certain days to take depositions, in order to save settlers an expense they can ill afford. Commissioner Burdett is disposed to grant the relief asked for, and is inclined to rule in this particular case that settlers be allowed, if they prefer, to make their deposition before the Clerk of the Court of Record at the county seat.

Consolidating District Offices.

The District Commissioners issued an order to-day consolidating the eleven offices of Assessors of Taxes into six, and appointing Geo. W. Riggs, Henry A. Willard and Anthony Hyde Assessors of Taxes. The Assessors are directed to assess for the purposes of the special tax directed by the act of Congress of June 30th, 1874, all taxable real estate subject to said tax and not included in the present assessments. All real estate, except that belonging to the United States or District, or used for educational or charitable purposes, must be included either in the present assessment or the supplemental one now authorized.

Enforcing the Law in Relation to Pacific Railroads.

The Secretary of the Treasury is preparing a formal demand on the several Pacific Railroads embraced in the act of last June, requiring the payment of 5 per cent. of the net earnings of the companies to the Government imposed by the act of July 1st, 1862. If the demand is not complied with within sixty days, the Secretary will notify the Attorney General, who will institute legal proceedings against the roads for delinquent taxes.

WASHINGTON, August 9, 1874.

School Boards Consolidated.

Heretofore the Board of School Trustees for white children and the Board of School Trustees for colored children have been separated, but yesterday the Commissioners Governing the District of Columbia consolidated them into one board, consisting of ten white and five colored members. The consolidation is not designed to affect the present relations of the white and colored schools.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS.

The Saratoga of the South—A Little Paradise—Religious Service in a Ball-Room.

WHITE SULPHUR, VA., August 6, 1874.

This Saratoga of the South is certainly a most beautiful retreat. This morning we had about one thousand people for breakfast, and the arrivals registered since are seventy-six—so that the usual fifteen hundred is expected by the end of this week. One is inclined to doubt the statements of Southern poverty and want, looking at her five hundred beautiful belles gathered here alone, les belles des belles in every sense of the word, and in dress, not shadowing anything of poverty but much of elegant refinement and wealth. At Saturday night's hop, the sparkle of jewels and rustle of satin gave no token of impoverished southron, and at Sunday's dinner, the constant popping of Verzenay and Cliquot failed to convince me that every one of the late Confederacy is bankrupt. Indeed, coming here from one of our northern retreats, I see no less display of wealth, nor any more economy of dress.

A Little Paradise.

These "springs" are lovely—everything that goes to make up a little paradise is here; cool and pure the air, grand the walks amongst mountain tops, happy as young life can make it are the promenades, sweet and most enjoyable the elegant music of Baltimore's best band, gay the lawns and verandas with the ripple of childhood's sports, and Health herself seems to stand over the gurgling spring,—so famous the world over, and beckon you to come, drink and be well. How the tired one forgetting desk and pen, dropping ledger and day book—with no fear of the Notary, and no thought of the dullness, how like a garden of Hesperides this sylvan delight, and what a boon to tired nerves and exhausted nature. The day is devoted to pleasure, the night to glorious sleep. As I pressed the pillow last night, covering myself with two good blankets, the air coming in at the open window so pure and dry, so cool; so unlike the smoky, sulphurous, sooty, petroleum smelling air of August in dear old Pittsburgh.

Pittsburghers at the Springs.

Scarcely any one is here from "our parts." Dr. Pershing and daughter are on the register. He left on Tuesday. Miss P. is here yet. Charley Dean and Wilson Duff, of Pittsburgh, are flirting with the "sweet sixteens" as I write. Col. Chill W. Hazzard is here, and I see him over there by the music stand holding an animated conversation with McCausland, the rebel General who burned Chambersburg. Miss E. A. Townsend, of Cincinnati, who was a belle in Pittsburgh last Winter, is as much admired here as she was on Penn avenue. Mrs. Col. Riddle, formerly of East Liberty, is here the guest of Mrs. Gen. Kearney, the widow of noble Phil. I have been able to find no other Pittsburghers here, and I have looked, for at times one likes to talk about home, you know.

Divine Service in a Ball-Room.

Yesterday we had divine service in the ball-room, by Bishop Pinckney, of Richmond. His text was taken from the parable of the Good Samaritan. "Who is my Brother?" And the sermon was in the direction of the brotherhood of mankind. At its close I thought he was going to apply the whole moral lesson to bear in favor of the civil right's bill, so plainly had he indicated the colored man as the special "brother" in the case. But no, it was only a church for the colored people of Washington City, and after the benediction he said a colored man with whom he had "conversed upon many topics, finding him learned and well versed in classic and polite literature," would pass around the hat, which the said classic colored man did to the tune of nearly five hundred dollars. The Bishop is a fine-looking man, and evidently without much of the prejudice which I hear every day.

Democratic Congressional Convention.

The special topic here to day is the Democratic Convention to-morrow at Charlestown, to nominate a candidate for Congress. General McCausland is seeking the place, but will hardly make it. The local interest involved is the appropriation of half a million of dollars toward the completion of the James River and Kanawha Canal, which would develop the coal interests of this region, and put into market its immense tracts of timber, much of it the finest black walnut in the country. A Virginian said to me this morning, that the man who could best secure that object would be elected, and he thought the present incumbent the coming man.

I will take a look at some coal mines near here, and write again in a day or so.

Don Carlos Interviewed by a Correspondent.

NEW YORK, August 9.—A correspondent of the New York Herald interviewed Don Carlos at Elorria on August 4th. Don Carlos said: "We are always glad at seeing a correspondent willing to tell the truth. We have faults, but accept the responsibility of our actions. Our cause is so good that we do not fear daylight. Our enemies spread false news maliciously and persistently, because we do not possess means of giving the truth publicity, therefore we give honest journalists the opportunity to gather evidence of the absurd stories afloat of Carlist atrocities."

Hereupon the correspondent said he hoped he would not meet the fate of Captain Schmidt. Carlos replied that there was no danger. Schmidt was arrested under the most suspicious circumstances, tried by a Court Martial, found guilty, and executed as a spy. Nevertheless I regret very much that my order to spare his life was received too late.

Correspondent—Does His Majesty apprehend any danger of German entervention on account of the execution.

Carlos—Not the least. Germany is aware that a foreigner throwing himself in the midst of an internecine conflict is exposed to its risks and perils. While deeply regretting that the reprieve was received too late, the Spaniards strongly dislike interference in their affairs. Intervention would result in favor of me. Then Spain would only have one army, with Carlos its chief. Spain has been impoverished by war, revolutions and changes of government, and requires my whole life to restore her to the degree of prosperity which I wish her to possess. The only means to accomplish this is by a long, fruitful season of tranquility, devoted to cultivating the arts of peace and consolidating and establishing the finances and credit of the Government, and thus give the country the necessary repose which she never enjoyed since the reign of Charles V.

In reply to a question regarding the Cortes, he said it should be elected fully and fairly by the nation. The Cortes, which should respect the feelings, interests, wishes and sentiments of the people, ought not to be a mere body of factious politicians, alike powerless for good and strong for evil, promulgating doctrines for the overthrow of society and ending with barricades. I wish Spain to march onward to progress and enlightenment, and not remain behind the sister nations in science and elevation, without which Spain will be outstripped in the race for wealth and prosperity. But something is radically wrong in the modern current of thought and system of education. The world is rushing into gross materialism and unbelief, which, unless checked, must end in the extinction of the human race, the fault thereof being the modern Godless system of education and modern methods of investigation. To day's savants will be called fools by the savants of twenty years hence for wishing to discard the truths that have borne the test for ages. Spain shall never submit if I can help it. Religion and education assist each other. Science with religion is blind, adding with a smile, 'I am at present occupied with other matters. When the enemy is conquered, my throne restored, and peace and order prevail, then is the time to consider education."

Touching Cuba, he said he would offer free pardon and amnesty, and would guarantee a Government devoted to the interest of the island. He said he was opposed to slaves, and would abolish it with all speed.

Carlos is very sanguine of the success of his cause, declaring his prospects favorable and giving good reasons therefor.

Revolution in Bologna.

Last night an armed band of forty persons quitted Imola and proceeded to Bologna, destroying the telegraph lines and disarming the railway watchmen as they went. The party was pursued by a military force, who arrested nearly all of them and seized their arms and ammunition. There has been some excitement in Bologna, caused by the organization of revolutionary societies, but these have been dissolved and the town is now tranquil.

Internationalists Arrested.

ROME, August 9.—Eight leaders of the Internationale have been arrested here, and other arrests have been in Florence and other Italian cities. Papers were seized showing that the Internationale has been making great progress in Italy.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Riot in Portsmouth.

LONDON, August 8.—There was a serious riot in Portsmouth to-night, in consequence of the pier authorities closing a thoroughfare. A mob of several thousand persons destroyed the obstruction, when the police charged upon them repeatedly, and many of the policemen and rioters were severely injured. A renewal of the rioting is feared.

LONDON, August 9.—The rioting in Portsmouth was renewed on Saturday, and several persons were seriously injured. The military was obliged to come to the aid of the police, and the mob was then dispersed.

WEST INDIES.

Steamship Aground.

HAVANA, August 9.—The German mail steamship Alsatia ran aground while entering the harbor of Puerto Plata, and will probably become a wreck.

An Invitation from the Czar to "Napoleon IV."

ST. PETERSBURG, August 8.—The Gallous says the Czar has invited the son of the late Emperor Napoleon to witness military maneuvres.

BY MAIL.

The Prince of Wales' Debts.

A London letter says a report has suddenly gained currency that the long expected crisis has occurred in the financial affairs of the Prince of Wales, and that the Ministry have made up their minds to propose to the House of Commons, at its next session, to pay his debts. The sum named is £640,000, four times the sum voted in 1787 to appease the creditors of that pattern of royalty, who afterward became George IV. About paying the bills there are certain to be two powerful and contradictory sentiments. One that the honor of the nation is concerned in providing for the debts of its future king; the other, that these debts are of a character which ought to be paid out of the accumulated fortune of the Queen. The latter view rests on the well-known fact that the Queen has been receiving ever since the death of Prince Albert the whole of the income calculated at her accession to support the expenses of the court in the usual degree of splendor; that Her Majesty has, however, lived during this period for the most part in retirement, and that the cost of drawing-room levees and other royal pageantries has, in fact, fallen upon the Prince and Princess of Wales, whose income has been unequal to such a burden. The existing debts, or a considerable part of them, have, according to this theory, been incurred in the discharge of these duties, hence it is urged that the Queen, who has had and kept the money given her by the State for such purposes, ought to pay them. The Prince of Wales has £40,000 a year, plus the revenue of the Duchy of Cornwall, which now amounts to over £10,000 per annum.

From Australia.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 9.—The British steamer McGregor arrived last night, thirty-five days from Sydney. The steamer Mikado had arrived at Sydney nine days overdue, with her machinery out of order from overwork.

The wreck of the British Admiral had been sold for £5,150. Six bodies found on shore were interred.

In a prize fight near Ballarat, a man named Blair was killed by his opponent.

The proceedings of the South Australian Assembly on the 9th of June are described as extremely disgraceful. No particulars are given.

The people of Fiji are impatiently awaiting the decision of the British Government on the question of annexation.

Blondin is at Queensland.

The commissioners sent from France to New Zealand to investigate the facts relative to the escape of Rochefort have been at work. The result is that all Communists in New Caledonia will be removed to the Island of Pines for better security.

The immigrants arriving in New Zealand from Great Britain rate 6,000 per month. Wonderful gold discoveries are reported in the Thames district, forty miles from Auckland.

From Honolulu.

The McGregor brings Honolulu dates to July 19th.

The Gazette complains that the King's Cabinet is weak, and says it ought to be remodeled—that the present members are mere adventurers.

The Legislative Assembly has passed an appropriation bill for $970,565; also a bill to aid steam navigation to foreign countries was passed to final reading.

From Japan.

The Japan Gazette of July 20th says:

The great subject of interest still continues to be the Japanese expedition to Formosa. The Japanese have quite succeeded in the primary object of the expedition, and might retire with good grace. Indeed, they have nothing else to do there, unless it be that they think of colonizing, and that to all foreigners and to many among themselves appears mere folly.

The Mikado has made no public appearance during the month. The Emperor pays out of his privy purse the expense of a foreign doctor to attend the troops in Formosa.

A deliberate assembly commences its sitting in September.

There is a report that the Japanese have left the islands of Saghalion and Go Yeso.

It has been publicly mentioned for some days, and not contradicted, that the would-be assassins of Iwakura, lately Japanese Ambassador to foreign powers, have been decapitated.

The Japanese Government has appealed to the Circuit Court of California against the adverse decision given by the United States Consul in its last suit against the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for damages in $10,250 for breach of contract.

Shipments of tea from here continue to be on a scale larger than in former seasons. In consequence of excessive competition among buyers, prices rule too high to leave a margin of probable profit to exporters.

The Government is evidently opposed to the circulation of foreigners in the interior, unless they will agree to be subject to Japanese law.

The command of the British squadron, which will shortly be vacant on the completion by Vice Admiral C. F. A. Shadwell, C. B., F. R. S., of his prescribed period of service, will, it is believed, be conferred by the Admiralty on Vice Admiral H. Chads.

The steamer Canton was lost near Foochow, with a full cargo of tea.

Her Majesty's Consul at Saigon has been notified that unless provided with clean bills of health, all vessels taking a cargo of passengers at Saigon will be placed in quarantine at Hong Kong for seven days.

The Chinese authority has consented to the telegraph being erected between Pagoda anchorage and the foreign settlement of Foochow. The Viceroy is desirous of having a wire to his own yamen in the city.

The Peruvian treaty seems to be very unpopular with the Chinese, who are said to have refused to do more than come to a provisional arrangement until the report of the Coolie Commissioner is received.

POLITICAL.

Louisiana Republican State Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., August 8.—The Republican State Convention has among its resolutions reported this morning by the Committee on Resolutions, the following: 'Fifth—That duty and sound policy alike constrain us to nominate and support for office none but men of known honesty and capacity, and that men who are unmindful of the interests of the State and whose records are a reproach to the party, shall not be permitted to force themselves upon us in any capacity under any pretense whatever."

The resolutions endorse the State administration for pursuing a right course while contending with an organized system of villification and misrepresentation at home and abroad, denounce violence and attempts to bring about a conflict of races, and pledges the party to give a fair election and to reduce expenditures.

Antoine Dubuclet, the present incumbent, was nominated for State Treasurer by a large majority. There were more votes cast than there were delegates present, but on motion of Frank Morey, the opposing candidate, the nomination was made unanimous—an unexpected victory of the Casey-Pinchback faction over Kellogg, Packard and company.

The Convention then adjourned sine die. It is understood that the nominations will receive the united support of the party.

Republican Congressional Convention in the Sixth Louisiana District.

NEW ORLEANS, August 8.—C. S. Nash, colored, of St. Landry, was nominated for Congress in the Sixth District.

Primary Meetings in the Nineteenth Ohio Congressional District.

CLEVELAND, O., August 8.—Partial returns from the primary meetings in the Nineteenth Congressional District, to elect delegates to the Congressional Convention to be held at Painesville, Ohio, on August 13th, show a large majority in favor of the renomination of General Garfield.

The New Party in Missouri—Primary Meetings in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, August 9.—Meetings were held in the different wards of the city last night to elect delegates to the People's County Convention to be held to-morrow to choose delegates to the People's State Convention to convene at Jefferson City on September 2d. Some meetings were very well attended, but others slimly. The delegates selected show a fair proportion of Republicans, Liberal Republicans and Democrats. The meetings in the German wards were most numerously attended, and it is claimed that the Germans generally, especially those Liberals who have for two or three years past acted with the Democrats, will give this movement a hearty support.

The Democrat this morning expresses much encouragement at the result of the meetings, the Globe ridiculed and condemned them, the Times declared and denounced them as failures and a fizzle, and the Republican made no mention of them, except in its local columns.

BLACK HILLS.

A Correspondent's Observations—Gold Discoveries—The Scenery, etc.

NEW YORK, August 9.—The Tribune correspondent with the Black Hills expedition sends the following by special scout to Fort Laramie:

HEADQUARTERS BLACK HILLS EXPEDITION, 8½ miles southeast of Harney's Peak, Dakota Territory, August 4.—The country which the expedition has traversed has proved to be one of the most fertile and beautiful sections in the United States. Indications of gold were discovered about a week ago, and within two days its presence in sufficient quantities abundantly to repay working has been established beyond a doubt. How large an area the gold section covers cannot be determined without exploration, but the geological characteristics of the country. The researches of our prospectors, and all indication point to valuable fields. So far we have obtained surface gold alone. Our miners hope yet to find a good quartz lead. The expiration of the Sioux treaty will open to settlement a beautiful and highly productive area of country hitherto entirely unknown. Grass, water, and timber of several varieties were found in abundance, and all of excellent quality. Small fruits abound. Game is plentiful. The valleys are well adapted for cattle raising or agricultural purposes, while the scenery is lovely beyond description. The flora is the most varied and exhuberant of any section this side of California. In this respect it is a new Florida. It may prove to be a new Eldorado. The command is in good health and explorations are being rapidly conducted.

NEW YORK.

Labor Troubles in Brooklyn.

"Vic." Woodhull and Tennie Claflin Arrested.

NEW YORK, August 8, 1874.

A Conspiracy in the Police Department.

Governor Dix states that he has not yet come to any conclusion in the case of Mayor Havemeyer. Hon. John Kelly says if a judicial investigation should be ordered, he would show a state of affairs in the Police Department, one year ago, under the rule of Commissioners Gardner, Charlick and Smith, that would astound the public. He would show that a conspiracy was formed by these Commissioners.

Labor Troubles.

A murder occurred last night in the eastern district of Brooklyn, growing out of conflicts which existed between the members of the Plasterers' Union and non-society men. A building is in course of erection at North Seventh and Fourth streets, and the owner hired some non-society men, a short time ago, to do the plastering, as they agreed to work ten instead of eight hours a day. Numerous threats have been made against them by the society men during the past three days, and especially by a number of masons who were working eight hours on some buildings near by. Last night three of the latter, James Killduff, Thomas McLaughlin and John Kingston, quit work as usual at five o'clock and started for the building where the non-society men were at work, determined, as they stated, to teach them a lesson that would prevent their acting in opposition to the wishes of the Union. Arriving at the house, they commenced an assault upon the men at work. Killduff lead the attack and struck one of the men, while McLaughlin knocked another down. Killduff, in the fight, was ejected from the building, and was about to strike with a stone the man he first assailed, when Frank Stuck, the watchman of the premises, who had been thus far a spectator of the fight, seized a plasterer's hammer, and, striking Killduff upon the head, killed him instantly. All persons at work upon the building were arrested, and Stuck was arrested soon afterwards. Later in the evening, McLaughlin and Kingston, who joined Killduff in the assault, were locked up. An excited crowd of society men collected around the station last night, and had to be dispersed by the police.

Suspension of a Dry Goods House.

The dry goods House of Paton & Co., 341 Broadway, suspended payment to-day. The firm have issued a circular to their creditors explaining that in consequence of the complete depression of business and owing to circumstances in connection with the dissolution of the partnership hitherto existing, they are unable to make further payment. The circular referred to regrets the necessity of the course to which the firm is compelled to resort, and assures the creditors that a statement of assets and liabilities will be made at as early a moment as it is possible to prepare it. The entire assets of the firm are pledged to their creditors. The extent to which other houses are involved will not, it is believed, result in additional disasters.

Death by Paris Green.

The Coroner's inquest in the case of John and Annie Powers and Ellen Burke, servants who died about two weeks ago from poison alleged to have been contained in some chow-chow which they had used at dinner, has resulted in a verdict that they came to their deaths from the accidental introduction into their food of Paris green, which had been freely distributed throughout the kitchen to kill insects.

"Vic" Woodhull and Tennie Claflin Arrested.

Victoria C. Woodhull and Tennie Claflin were arrested to-day on a charge of not paying Achsah M. Truman, on demand, a small sum deposited with them for investment, in 1871. Tennie and her mother were about to sail for Europe.

Arrested on Suspicion.

Jacob Rosenburg was arrested to-day on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery of $20,000 worth of jewelry from the store of John Brennan, of Philadelphia, on the night of February 18th. A large quantity of the jewelry has been recovered.

Specie Shipments.

The specie shipments to-day aggregated $2,214,614, of which $2,200,000 was gold coin.

VICKSBURG.

The Steamer Henry Ames Sunk.

VICKSBURG, August 8.—The steamer Henry Ames, with a full cargo from St. Louis for New Orleans, struck a snag last night near Water Proof, and sank in twenty-five feet of water. Only three lives are known to be lost. The Ames had about 1,200 tons of assorted merchandise. The value of the boat and cargo is estimated at $13,000. The boat is owned and insured in St. Louis.

The sinking was caused by striking a hidden obstruction. A German woman and two children going to Bayou Sara, and a French woman going to Cook's Landing, were lost, and probably others. No cabin passengers are missing. The books and papers were saved. There was an insurance of $25,000 on the boat.

BONDS at Frankfort 98½.

THE Waynesburg people now claim that Charley Ross was in their town, recently.

THE Woodhull sisters have been arrested, much to their joy, and the disgust of the public. Why not let them go to Europe.

THE Commercial did not need to apologise for not publishing our article on State Finances. We did not expect it to be either fair or courteous.

THE Whitely secret service investigation does not promise well. That deft gentleman has apparently made way with a very important link in the chain of testimony.

THE National Educational Convention which was in session at Detroit, Michigan, adjourned to meet at Richmond, Virginia, next year. About four hundred teachers were present, and the whole proceedings were of the most interesting character.

THE Prince of Wales has reached a crisis in his fortune, his debts having attained a magnitude that has utterly broken his credit, and necessitated some general movement to pay them to save the credit of the Royal house. What a delightful institution a Royal family is?

THE testimony of Moulton is to be given to-day, in place of Saturday. Of course all sorts of rumors are current as to its tenor, but he manages to enshroud it in mystery. In this particular he is as successful as is a certain journal in this city, in manufacturing pointless moralizings on the subject.

THE Grangers, in the heat, continue their war on the railroads in the most energetic manner. They are now agitating in favor of a double track line to California, all of which is rather extensive. When existing capital cannot make interest, it is something of a problem how additional capital can be made to do it, on a given amount of trade.

ANOTHER Polar Expedition, under the auspices of Russia, this time, is to be sent out, with the view of rescuing an Austrian party that sailed in the Tegethoff, two years ago. It is feared that, notwithstanding the vessel was thoroughly fitted for her voyage, she was lost, as she was last seen in a violent gale, off Nova Zembla. Thus it goes, one vessel is sent to explore, and another follows to rescue. Certainly our knowledge of the Arctic regions is obtained at heavy cost.

EVEN the New York Tribune cannot endure the gustiness of the Democratic party, saying "that for the Democratic party, with all its record, its influence, and its tendencies, to talk about restoring honest administration by giving it power, is the most abject nonsense. The people are not fools or blind. They know well enough—and all the gustiness of orators, the platitudes of platforms, and the hollowness of resolutions cannot deceive them." Yet those same Democrats keep up a continual howl, and imagine that all the world is beside itself, at the amazing revelations they make.

THE childrens' excursions at the East, for the benefit of the poor, seem to be fairly established in the list of permanent charities. They are as general, as largely attended, as popular, and as enthusiastically sustained as at any previous time. Large numbers of poor children have been thus favored, during the Summer now closing, and the feeling is, that they are benefited physically and morally by the excursions given them. It is said to be surprising how many wan and sickly children come forth from the gloom of dark courts and alleys, and present themselves as candidates for the favors that are current. This and the flower charity are the simplest, yet noblest philanthropies of modern times. They have in them the gospel of physical good, the blessing that is cheery with bright sunshine. They are the realization of the command to bestow even a cup of water, if no more, on the little ones. The flower charity has developed in this city, but why not the other?

IN a brief paragraph in Saturday's issue we did injustice to Controller Snodgrass, being misled by the local report of the affair. It seems that he was not in ignorance of the bonds referred to, that were in his safe, but still had doubts of the legality of their issue, as they were not fully filled out. In fuller explanation of the affairs of his office, he was at the pains to show us the perfect regularity and system with which it is managed, and that of all the bonds signed or unsigned, a record is kept, and thorough knowledge had of everything in the vaults. He claims that the Hiland avenue bonds were not sufficiently completed to be negotiable, as they then were. They are registered, and not coupon bonds. Of the care and attention, as well as order and system with which the Controller's office is conducted, we were amply satisfied. We take the more pleasure in mentioning these facts, when in place of threatening communications, Mr. Snodgrass points out in a proper and gentlemanly manner the facts, and appeals to these for his vindication. Of course, we had no animus, other than to point out what seemed, from a local report, a very grave piece of carelessness. The affairs of the Controller's office are really managed on exactly the opposite principle,—that of extreme carefulness. So much outcry has been made of late, that he feels that he cannot be too cautious, and prefers to err, if at all, on the side of safety. All of which is right.

THE case of the kidnapped boy, Charley Ross, continues to excite a large amount of attention, and is as much a mystery now as ever. It begins to be doubted whether the kidnappers purposed to do more than to secure this particular child, for some reason as yet inexplicable. Says the Bulletin of it: "There is undoubtedly grounds for the belief that this abduction has something in it beyond the mere general purpose to steal a child for the sake of blackmail or other gain. There is a strong indication that it was not merely a child, any child, but this particular child that was to be taken. Otherwise, two things would have been done. First, a rich man's child would have been taken; and, second, a single child, unhampered by an older brother, would have been selected. There was abundant choice, in both these particulars. It is no answer to this first suggestion, that Mr. Ross was known to have wealthy connections, if he has not large means himself. The kidnappers' chances of large ransom would have been far more certain in dealing with rich parents than with other rich relatives, no matter how much interested they might be. And the increased difficulties of the abduction, growing out of the necessity of first taking and then getting rid of the older brother, was so manifest and great that it seems incredible that they should have been voluntarily assumed." There is much force in these views, and they may illustrate the real facts in the case.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

About $500,000 worth of Northern Pacific Railroad bonds are held in this city, a portion of them by parties who entered that corporation on the "ground floor," and paid the face value of the bonds, expecting incidental advantages from the construction of the road. In the failure of Jay Cooke & Co., these hopes were dashed, or at least deferred. In the entire country, several millions of bonds were taken,—there being extant, in this country and Europe, about $20,000,000 of bonds, in round numbers. As the result of the Cooke failure, they are naturally depressed in price, and the road has been denounced as poorly built, as running through a country which cannot for a long time afford profitable business to the road, and as having in any sense, but little of future promise. The company has had introduced in Congress a bill requiring the Government to endorse the bonds of the road to the amount of $50,000 a mile, the company to surrender back to the Government, in trust its lands, as security for the endorsement. The wisdom of this endorsement turns upon the question whether these lands are a full security for it, and also upon the prospect of the road, when built becoming remunerative. If these propositions can be favorably answered, and the assurance given that the road will be honestly built, the endorsement asked for will, in our opinion, be cheerfully granted. Elizur Wright, of Massachusetts, writing in a spirit of antagonism to the management of the road, yet admits its importance, as a line of communication, and favors any measure that will complete it, if it is honestly built.

Close and careful observation has led us to believe that as far as completed, the Northern Pacific Railroad has been built in the most thorough and substantial manner. The road bed has been carefully constructed, the ties are of hard wood, and the rails are heavy and of palpably excellent material. The ballasting has been carefully done, and in all the minutiæ of careful workmanship, the road will bear the closest examination. Trains run over it as smoothly, and at as high rate of speed, as over old and largely traveled roads. In all particulars, the work of construction, and the use of material, is equal to the best roads.

In general terms it may be said that the traffic of the road now more than pays its current expenses. This is made up of the passenger and freight traffic of the towns along the line of the road, the Manitoban trade, and that of the Montana mining regions. Including Duluth and Bismarck, the terminal towns of the road so far as now constructed, there are a dozen towns on the 450 miles of road now operated. It is definitely known that this year $500,000 bushels of wheat grown along the line of road, will be sent to market. The freight traffic to Manitoba, this year, amounts to 5,070 tons besides a large number of passengers, this being the natural outlet from that region. The Montana trade embraces two lines of large steamers, numbering a half dozen vessels each, and the passengers carried by these go and come over the Northern Pacific. Freight by this route reaches the Montana region much more conveniently than by any other route, and the trade is secure. Add to this the half dozen forts to be supplied, and we have the data for estimating the trade.

Thus far the lands on line of road have been rapidly developed,—the average product of wheat doubling each year. That this must continue is proven by the liberal policy of the company, and demand for the crops produced. Thus far, the company has sold 184,311 acres, at an average price of $5.55 per acre. When these lands are improved, in a certain ratio, a deduction is made, and under this liberal policy lands are being brought under cultivation very rapidly. It has been found very profitable to employ large capital in farming, and this is now becoming very popular. Persons enter into it as a business, realizing $10 per acre profit, and cultivating several thousand acres each. As this policy develops, the land must be rapidly taken up. And as taken up and thus developed, the road will be benefited in two ways: 1. By the sale of the land, and 2. By the freightage of the crops. If the ratio of sales should increase for five years in the ratio of the increase of the past year over that of the year preceding, in five years the road can have in every bond it has outstanding, and be in position to go forward and complete the road, either by issuing fresh bonds, or by the proceeds of the land sales. In other words, the Northern Pacific road, if no great calamity occurs, can be completed out of its own resources and the credit these will give, within the next ten years, without Government aid. This being so, it is certainly safe to give that aid.

The demonstration of this is as follows: Its sales of land have been chiefly made within one year, and amount to a trifle more than a million of dollars. The new idea of capital farming is already increasing its sales in a rapid ratio. It has enough lands, at the average rate received for those sold, to more than build and equip the road. The road, so far as built, brings in a revenue over expenses. Hence if the land sales liquidate the bonds, all is easy. If those sales merely double in volume, the bonded debt is wiped out, beside the increasing traffic of the road, resulting from the productions of developed lands. Let this be half accomplished, and the credit of the road in the market will be first class. Indeed, let it be demonstrated, through three continuous years that this pro rata of retirement of bonds can be made, and the question is settled. We undertake to say that the sale of over $1,000,000 worth of lands, in a little more than a year, and the development of a surplus wheat product to 500,000 bushels in two years, is a clear earnest of what will be thorough demonstration in less than five years.

This subject is of deep interest to the people of Pittsburgh. The prosperity of our manufactories and our city is, in a large measure, bound up in it. We have briefly and succinctly stated several points. Their fuller elaboration, with the minute data, showing how these general statements are more than substantiated by practical experience, may be reserved for another writing.

POLITICAL.

WILLIAM A. WALLACE has received the endorsement of Clinton county for State Senator, which insures his nomination in the district.

THE Republican candidate for Governor of Delaware is a Mr. Jump. Several Democratic editors have taken sick trying to work up a pun upon his name.

THE Democratic organs are making desperate attempts to get up a little enthusiasm over their victory in Kentucky. It is a good deal like the renowned capture of Holland by the Dutch.

HON. JOHN CESSNA, Chairman of the Republican County Committee, of Bedford county, issues a call for a delegate election on the 5th of September, and for a Convention on the 8th, to nominate county officers and declare a preference for candidates for Congress and State Senator.

THE Memphis (Mo.) Reveille is satisfied the days of Democracy in Missouri are numbered, and says: "They have had everything their own way in this State—they have been fairly and fully tried, and found to be, in the fullest sense of the term, 'wanting.' The people are not satisfied with such servants, and propose, at the end of the present year, to fill their different places with more worthy men.

GOV. WOODSON made a speech in Lafayette county, Missouri, the other day, which it was hoped would have a beneficial effect in inducing the Grangers to join the Democratic party. At the close of the effort a particularly attentive Granger was asked what he thought of it. Pondering a moment he replied: "It reminds me of one of my cows. She raises her tail higher, bellows and paws the ground, and makes more fuss than any other critter on the farm, and gives less milk."

THE Fall River News thinks the Salem plan of caucus management would work well enough when the party was harmonious and there were no distracting influences at work, but, in stormy times, things would work as they do now. The only safe way, in its opinion, is to enroll as members of the party those who wish to be considered such, and let no others into their primary meetings. In reality a caucus is a secret meeting of partisans, and its doings should be kept aloof from the observation of party opponents.

THE full ticket nominated by the Democrats of Alabama is as follows: Governor, George S. Houston; Lieutenant Governor, Robert F. Ligon; Justices of the Supreme Court, Thomas J. Judge, Robert C. Brickell, Amos R. Manning; Attorney General, John W. A. Sanford; Secretary of State, R. K. Boyd; Treasurer, Daniel Crawford; Superintendent of Public Instruction, John M. McKleroy; Congressmen at Large, Burwell B. Lewis, William H. Forney. George S Houston, the nominee for Governor, served in Congress from 1843 to '48, and again from 1851 until the outbreak of the rebellion.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Utica Herald writes a long letter from Albany giving the current gossip there on State politics. He says the prospects for Governor Dix's renomination are as strong as ever, and that Lieut. Gov. Robinson, Mr. Barkley, Canal Commissioner, and Mr. Kirkpatrick, Prison Inspector, will also be renominated. On the Democratic side the correspondent thinks the choice for Governor lies between Judge Allen and the Hon. Samuel J. Tilden, while Smith H. Weed has the inside track for the Lieutenant Governorship. He also says that Waldo Hutchins is credited with the remark that the Liberals will join the Democrats.

PERSONAL.

THE Governor General of Canada, and party, will visit Chicago on the 14th or 15th instant, and afterwards Detroit.

THE President and Mrs. Grant have received several letters from Mrs. Sartoris. They are finally settled in their own house, albeit a small one called a cottage.

M. JULES FAVRE, it is reported, is about to marry the Principal of a Protestant girl's boarding school at Versailles, a daughter of the pastor of Wissembourg, in Alsace.

GEN. BRAXTON BRAGG has been appointed chief engineer of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad, and will commence a survey of the line, shortly, with a corps of 200 men.

TREASURER RAINES has fully recovered his health, and has informed Deputy Treasurer Apgar, by letter, that he will resume the discharge of the duties of his office on the 15th inst. Gov. Dix has stated to Mr. Apgar that he will issue an order terminating Acting Treasurer Lansing's incumbency on that day.

FRANK MOULTON, the "mutual friend" of Beecher and Tilton, is a soft-voiced, sleepy-eyed, generous young man, with wavy chestnut hair and features very like those of Artemus Ward. In point of cultivation, æsthetic fanaticism and fondness for the softer paths of life, Moulton is next only to the much debated Theodore.

IT is not generally known, but it is a fact, though none of his biographers have mentioned it, that Charles Sumner, at an early period of his life, embraced the doctrines of Fourierism. He met Fourier while in Europe, was charmed and converted by him, and gave in various cities and towns an able lyceum lecture on Fourier and his system. That system, however, soon lost its hold on Sumner's mind.

OSSIAN E. DODGE, the hero of St. Paul's scandal last year, having recently converted all his property into cash or negotiable securities, left the city on Sunday evening last, taking his youngest children and leaving his wife, who was absent for a few days, expecting on her return to accompany him East. He has amply arranged for her support in St. Paul, and it is conjectured he has planned to leave her, pretending reconciliation, after the expose of last year, solely to have and dispose of the property.

MARY KYLE DALLAS says love-making is always awkward. "A stolen kiss, if seen, creates a laugh, a squeeze of the hand, if detected, is a great joy. I myself, who claim to be romantic, did grin at a shadow picture cast upon the wall of the white garden fence, next door, by unenvious gas light, when I saw the shadow of the young lady with much waterfall feed the shadow of the young gentleman with no whiskers with sugar plums and then kiss it, but the shadows were very black and took odd crinks in their noses as they moved to and fro, and that may have been the cause of my mirth."

A THEATRICAL songstress and danseuse, calling herself Mlle. Zoe, recently made a figure in a Chicago police court. The Tribune of that city took pains to trace out her early history, and discovered that she was a member of an aristocratic Indianapolis family, and once a reigning belle. Driven from her home by a cruel and unfounded report affecting her reputation, she embraced the stage as a profession, sank lower and lower, and finally became the leading attraction at a low variety theatre in Chicago, where she was still employed at the time this account of her was written.

THE Rev. Dr. Osgood tells this story about Dr. Storrs and Dr. Howard. The two clergymen met on their way to exchange pulpits, when Dr. Howard said: "Do you believe, Mr. Storrs, that it was fore-ordained from all eternity that I should go to Longmeadow and preach this lecture for you?" Dr. Storrs—"Certainly I do, Dr. Howard." Dr. Howard (turning his horse toward Springfield)—"Then I'll break the decree." "Hold on," says Storrs, "It was foreordained from all eternity that you should make a fool of yourself half way between Springfield and Longmeadow." "Ah," says Dr. Howard.

MR. HENRY BEECHER, the pastor's eldest son, is living with his family in his father's house on the Heights. He is in the insurance business in the firm of Beecher & Benedict on Court street, Brooklyn. He is past thirty, and was a colonel in the late war. The second son, William, is a Yale graduate, about twenty-three years old, and studying in a Brooklyn law office. Herbert is eighteen, and is the youngest of the family, and is an undergraduate of Amherst College. The only daughter is Mrs. Harriet Scoville, the wife of a minister in Norwich, N. Y. Mr. Henry Beecher's wife is the sister of his partner, and daughter of Mr. Benedict, a resident of the Heights. Mr. and Mrs. Beecher have buried two or three young children.

FOREIGN NOTES.

IT is reported that the German Government has notified its representatives abroad that the time has now come to recognize the Spanish Republic. The relations between France and Italy are very satisfactory.

LADY BUTE recently opened at Cardiff, England, a new dock, constructed at the cost of her husband. The dock is said to be the largest in the world, and upwards of $5,000,000 have been expended in its formation.

THE Bishop of Strasbourg recently sent to the Pope 65,000 francs ($13,000) of Peter's pence, whereupon, the North German Gazette observes that the "oppressive taxes" do not seem so troublesome in Alsace as they were. Alsatians may anticipate an increase in the impost, for Berlin never indulges in a joke for a joke's sake.

BOUND for Iceland, Bayard Taylor sends from the Orkneys to the New York Tribune an interesting sketch of the island's settlement and history. It was first peopled by the migratory Irish, and next by the Norsemen, who, sailing westward, became acquainted with our shores centuries ago before Columbus. This ancient intercourse between Iceland and Vinland, as part of New England was called, adds to the appropriateness of Americans joining the hardy islanders in their millennial festivities, which were to have begun on Thursday.

THE smallest known postoffice which, unlike many others, keeps itself and costs Uncle Sam nothing, is situated, or rather hung, on the outermost rock of the mountains, overhanging the Straits of Magellan, opposite Terra del Fuego. Every passing ship opens it to place letters in or to take them out. Every ship undertakes to forward all the letters in it that it is possible for it to transmit. How many homes have been made bright by these messages left in the barrel postoffice. It hangs there by its iron chain, beaten and battered by the wind and storm, but no locked and barred office on land is more secure. It is not in the track of mail robbers.

THE action of the Bank of England in raising the rate of discount from three to four per cent. was the cause of general discussion and some depression in Wall street, where it was regarded to some extent as an effort to obstruct the placing of the new five per cent. bonds of the United States, the theory being that the bank fearing that the bonds would come to London for a market, had purposely raised the rate for money. A prominent member of the syndicate, however, disclaimed any such theory, and said that the Bank had lost nearly £1,000,000 sterling in bullion, and that to check the outflow the rate had been raised. Of the £1,000,000 mentioned he believed that the bulk of it was used in the purchase of grain.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

THE Oakland Beach (R. I.) regatta has been postponed until this morning.

THE waiter-girl saloons in Chicago are to be closed by order of the Mayor.

TWO miners were killed at the Pennsylvania Coal Company's mines at Wilkesbarre on Friday, by the fall of a tip car.

A LOUISVILLE gentleman says: "There is something about dogs I never could get used to." He alludes to fleas, probably.

THE officials of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Railroad report that they have negotiated in England $2,500,000 of their consolidated and second mortgage bonds.

THE famous "log hut," the home of General Grant during the memorable campaign that preceded the fall of Richmond, is now devoted to the useful and peaceful purpose of a storehouse for children's perambulators in Fairmount Park.

THE girl, Ida Hutchinson, of Jamestown, N. Y., who accuses her father of her child, publishes a horribly disgusting story of the crime. The father forced his daughter to consent to his hellish designs, and threatened her life if she revealed the intimacy. Hutchinson has not been seen since his escape after being arrested.

THE Philadelphia Chief of Police has issued a proclamation to the police to forego any claim to the whole or any part of the $20,000 reward offered by the Mayor for any information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the abductors of Charley Ross. The Chief invites communications secret or otherwise, from persons who may have needed information.

THE mysterious cause of the deaths of three servants in New York, heretofore attributed to eating chow chow, proves to have been Paris green. The poison had been originally introduced into the kitchen a year previous, and it was found that the knives and spoons in daily use were saturated with it in a diluted form. The great wonder is that the entire family was not poisoned. The story has its clear moral, which, of course, will not be heeded.

THE United States District Court at Louisville has rendered a decision that is of interest to express companies and those that use them. A Louisville bank gave to the Adams Express Company $16,000 to be taken to Louisiana. By the falling of a bridge on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, the car was burned and the money with it. The bank sued the Express Company, but the Court decides that the Company is not responsible for the accidents on the railroad, and therefore the bank loses the money.

THERE was a dust spout at Central Falls, R. I., the other day. A dense volume of dust was seen to suddenly rise into the air, and, assuming a conical shape, was borne to a very high altitude—so high, indeed, that the top of it seemed to dwindle to a mere speck against the clouds. The sight is described by those who witnessed it as wonderful, although of short duration, the cloud or spout being soon broken and falling in showers of dust in the vicinity. It was produced by the same peculiar rotary motion of the air that produces water spouts.

ACCORDING to the New York Sun, extra precautions have been taken to guard the Stock Exchange against forgeries. Representatives of the Exchange and the bankers and brokers declare that "in the existing stagnation of trade, vast numbers of men are out of employment and ready for almost any deed of desperation." Upon this representation Police Commissioner Matsell ordered "that a corps of detectives should be sent to patrol Wall street and other districts where banks are situated, with orders to arrest all suspicious persons on sight."

THE herring fishery of 1873 in Scotland, was the greatest upon record, no fewer than 939,233 barrels of fish having been cured, and of this number 668,008 barrels were exported. No record is kept of the number of herring taken, but estimating the number sold fresh to have been only one-half the number cured, the total number taken amounts to 1,500,000 barrels. Allowing 700 fish to the barrel, over 100,000,000 of herring were taken by Scotch fishermen in Scottish waters. A fleet of 12,000 boats was engaged in these fisheries, and the drift of nets is estimated at a corresponding number of miles.

WHEN the plan for making the American trade dollar was introduced, it was reported that the Mexican Government would make every effort to keep the Mexican dollar in the market, to the exclusion of the proposed American coin. The hostility evinced toward the new coin has, however, been of no avail. The demand is greater than the supply. The trade with China and Japan has been greatly facilitated by this new medium, and the coin is very popular on the Pacific coast. When a sufficient number of the "shiners" have been made to supply the Western demand, it is hoped that the attention of the Government will be directed towards furnishing a supply for our own market.

MR. CARPENTER, a candidate for County Judge in Bullitt county, Kentucky, illustrated his qualifications for the discharge of judicial functions by the distribution of whisky "by the bucketfull" to the negroes at the polls on election day. Whisky by the bucketfull is no doubt a good thing for the elevation of the race—it is reported that it elevated large numbers of them—but it does not seem to promote peace and harmony even in Kentucky. The consequence of this judicious action of the judicial candidate was trouble between the whites and blacks, which at last accounts threatened a riot. How much better it would have been if Carpenter had kicked the bucket instead of distributing whisky in it.

HUMOROUS.

"THE vilest sinner may return," wrote a Methodist minister's daughter to her lover, who had left her a month or two before.

A LIVERPOOL girl has died in consequence of having her ears bored. Fortunately the ladies of Mr. Talmage's congregation are less susceptible.—N. Y. World.

SOME men are born to misfortune. At a Fourth of July picnic a Covington chap got his eye punched for speaking to another fellow's girl, and when he tearfully explained that he had "knowed her these thirty fixe years," he got all his hair pulled out.

A YOUNG lady stopping in Brattleboro', Vt., for a few days, sent a friend of hers to the store to get a pair of shoes. She told her friend to get number fives, but her friend, being anxious to secure a good fit for her, ordered the storekeeper to change the mark on a pair of sevens. He did so, and the lady said they fitted better than any she had had in a long time.

POOR Max Adeler! Hear what he has to say about a hotel clerk! "I can shake hands with a Governor, sit beside an Alderman, and smoke with a State Senator, and never feel my littleness; but when I come to stand in the presence of a modern hotel clerk, I feel that awe and inferiority which tourists feel as they stand in Yosemite Valley and look up the mountain tops a thousand feet above."

WE SAY once again that we cannot be responsible for typographical errors. The young poet who is angry because his poem says

> I saw beneath her snowy skirts
> A pair of pretty garters,

when he wrote "gaiters," can kill a printer, if he wants to, but we can't be bothered. Anyway we have no means of knowing just what he saw.

THE boy who came into this office yesterday, sat down on a box, and then bounced up with a yell and fled like one bewitched, is requested to return four long brass tacks that were standing on the box when he took his seat. No questions will be asked—we understand it all; but we want those tacks; we have use for them. That box is specially devoted to exchange fiends, and the tacks are what we depend on for excitement.—N. O. Picayune.

His name is Jem Brown, and he lives in Rockaway Valley, Nevada. He says to Alf. Warner, "Come over, Alf.; the old woman is dead, and you see I don't know much about running the funeral business." And Alf., he says. "Jem, I feel for ye, and I'll see that the old woman's planted as right as a hangel." But he went off and got drunk, and when Jem met and shot him dead, Rockaway Valley said it was a case of justifiable homicide.

HORRIBLE SCENE.

Brained by a Kicking Horse—A Human Head in Fragments by the Roadside.

The sad death of Mr. James Dickson, of Georgetown, at Fredericksburg, on Tuesday last, and his burial, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, at Oak Hill, on Thursday, are still fresh in the minds of our readers, and later advices from the scene of the occurrence show an instantaneous and horrible death, of which the following are the particulars:

Mr. Dickson had been for some months visiting a Miss Kate Herkamp, in Fredericksburg, and they were to be married in October next. While returning from a visit with this lady on Tuesday night last, about 10 o'clock, in a buggy, he handed the reins to her, saying "Kate, you drive for awhile; I feel so sick." She took the reins at once, when he fell forward, his head and the upper portion of his body overlapping the dashboard. The horse, with a loose rein, started off at full speed, kicking high at every jump, each blow taking effect in Dickson's head, the consequence of which was that by repeated blows his head was made a shapeless mass, and literally scattered in portions along the road for over one hundred yards. Miss Herkamp, in her fright, jumped from the vehicle, and was badly injured, having several teeth knocked out, besides receiving severe cuts on her face, and it is reported that she has been in a deranged state of mind ever since.—Wash. Chronicle.

ORIGINAL STORY ECLIPSED.

Another Wonderful Snake Story.

[From the Vicksburg Herald.]

A gentleman of this city recently wrote to Dr. Gyles, of East Tennessee, to make inquiries in regard to the snakes alleged to have been taken alive from the stomach or abdomen of a lady in that region. As Dr. Gyles was unable to decipher the name of his correspondent, he sends us the following report. The original story is eclipsed by the later marvel. Dr. G. says:

"MURRAYSVILLE, Rock Co., E. T., }
"July 28, 1874. }

"DEAR SIR: The published account about the snakes was not quite correct. The following particulars were not published: One of the snakes was a female, and when taken out of the abdomen of Mrs. Kennedy and killed and cut open, was found to contain sixty eggs, the size of a robin's egg. Mr. Allison, of this town, took twenty-five of them home and put them under a hen that was about hatching, and they all hatched, and were wiggling after the old hen with her chickens, and, whenever she clucked to them, they would run to her. They seem to think the old hen is their natural mother, and are perfectly at home. Mr. Allison has had all their fangs drawn out, so, if they bite any person, they can't hurt them. A great many people visit them to see the curiosity. They seem to be quite docile, and eat meal with the chickens whenever they are fed, and nestle under their feathered mother like the other chicks. They look very funny with their heads sticking from under the old hen when disturbed. Hoping the above will be satisfactory, I am, respectfully, yours, DR. PERIAN GYLES.

PIO NONO'S INFANCY.

A Visit to the Place Where He Was Nursed.

A writer of a letter from Rome in the Paris Temps describes as follows a visit to the cottage in which Pius IX. was reared when an infant: It is a peasant's hut near the city walls and on the banks of a stream. Children were playing on a rustic staircase. On the wall is written in Italian:—"I, Domenico Governatori, declare that in this house was suckled the illustrious Pontiff Pius IX. with the milk of my very dear mother, Marianna Chiarini. Oh! if the poor woman were still alive and knew her glory. with what joy would her heart be filled!"

"And the foster brother," I asked; "is he dead?" "No," said a bright-eyed little boy, one of those playing on the steps, "There he is! It is my grand-father!" He then conducted me to a comfortable looking little old man, who was working among the reeds, and who, at our approach, drew himself up erect, showing a happy and intelligent countenance. On my asking him if he was the foster brother of the Pope, he said, "Yes, sir; I went twice to see him, and he let me kiss his foot and ring. He recognized me and acknowledged me." He spoke in very warm terms of His Holiness, who, he said, without taking him out of his position had bestowed many benefits on him, and, in particular, given him the cottage and the ground about it. Pius IX. has also founded in his native place an asylum for fifty old men.

TRULY APPALLING.

What Soyer Says We Eat.

Soyer, the noted cook, says that a man eats on an average, from the time he is ten years old to the time he dies, 30 oxen, 200 sheep, 100 calves, 200 lambs, 50 pigs, 1,200 chickens, 300 turkeys, 263 pigeons, 140 pounds salmon, 120 pounds of other fish, 30,000 oysters, 5,433 pounds vegetables, 143 pounds butter, 24,000 eggs, and four tons of bread. These figures are sufficient to alarm those with any inclination to dyspepsia, but when we reflect that most men eat more than the average, as Sir Boyle Roach would express it, the subject is truly appalling to any but a butcher or a marketman. We suppose there is no escaping M. Soyer's figures, and that a man must eat his fifty pigs, whether he likes pork or not. If the boy on completing his second lustre could be permitted to drive a bargain with fate, the situation might loose something of its gloom. For example, he who abhors veal might be allowed to "swap" his hundred calves for a proportionate amount of pigeons; or the epicure could take all his fish in salmon; or the vegetarian exchange his oxen for several extra tons of bread and vegetables. Until some such arrangement as this is entered into, men will continue to protest, however unavailingly, against the diet which destiny, in the person of M. Soyer, has ordained for them.

Chinese Domestic Life.

They have a large screen before the doorway which gives privacy sufficient for their need. The window sashes are closed either by a sort of ialousie or thin matting. They do not surround their domesticities with the same mystery and secret precautions with which we envelop these proceedings in Europe. Human nature, they argue, has to sleep, and here is the mat upon which it stretches itself. Why conceal it? It also wants to eat, and it satisfies its appetite, no matter how many eyes are gazing. Tell a Chinese cook you are hungry, and he will immediately fetch his fire, his cooking utensils, his provisions, and cook under your very nose. He has no idea of concealing his operations in some far-away back region, yclept kitchen. He squats down anywhere, makes a fire on or in anything; a basin, dish, pan, or pot—there is no limit to his invention. He will cook in the middle of the street, or in the centre of his guests in a restaurant. Upon one occasion, when on board a junk, I observed a man cooking his own and his neighbor's food for days together in a tub, and an earthenware saucer containing the charcoal. Wonderful creatures they are, these despised Chinese, with a deftness of finger and ingenuity and patience unsurpassed by any nation under the sun!—Temple Bar.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 10, 1874.

The rain of the early part of the day, Saturday, prevented the active prosecution of general business, and the banks developed nothing special other than every Saturday reveals. There is, of course, on that day, a larger draft than usual of current funds, for pay purposes, but this may be mentioned as a general feature. There is no clear indication yet of the active financial market so freely predicted, as something that must occur in a brief time. The demand for crops has not developed, and it remains uncertain whether we shall have a foreign demand, to any large extent or not. There seems to be more strength in the gold market, the rate having advanced slightly within a few days. We share the confidence that seems to be steadily growing, as to the prospects of the iron trade. The gradual recovery of industries shows how rightfully we may entertain hopes of manufacturing prosperity. We are confident that the Fall will witness greatly increased activity in our manufactories. After all, however, agriculture is the basis of our prosperity, and the fact of large crops is the foundation of other hopes. Because of the fact that the prosperity of all our interests, industrial, mining, financial and commercial, so indispensably rests upon and is identified with the progress of our agriculture it is impossible to give too much attention to it. We see this in the remarkable attention given to agriculture in such industrial and commercial section as those of New England and the Middle States, in such mining regions as Missouri, Michigan and California, and, indeed, in every section where any special interest prevails. Upon this basis mining, manufactures and commerce in the United States have become immensely more productive than formerly, and we are now able to sustain the greatest treasure-mining population in the world more economically than any competing region. Agriculture may, in fact, be termed the conservative element in population, for while there is a great waste of life in most other pursuits there is very little in this.

The gain in gold, of the Bank of France, so much commented on recently, is just equaled by the loss of gold by the Bank of England. The transfer was made by the Bank of France selling securities. As a result, the discount in France went down one per cent., and up one per cent. in England.

The St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Company has just negotiated in London about $1,000,000 second mortgage bonds at 79 per cent. currency, and $1,500,000 of its consolidated mortgage bonds at 71 per cent. currency. This company has lately reduced its floating debt more than one-half, and expects to fund the most of the remainder ($1,600,000) within a year.

We hear that the Philadelphia and Erie Railway, under its new head, is showing marked improvement in business and in its financial situation. The work, it is believed, is under energetic control, and will be conducted with all the economy consistent with the present and future profit of the shareholders and public convenience.

A fear is manifested at New York that the bondholders of the Columbus, Cincinnati & Indiana Central Railway will foreclose the mortgage within the six months allowed the company, or immediately thereafter.

The New York and Erie Railway already gives evidence, under its new direction, of more efficient management than ever before. The following named persons compose the Committee on Finance—H. G. Stebbins, M. O. Roberts, L. H. Meyer; and the following on Executive Business—J. A. C. Gray, S. L. M. Barlow, F. Schuchardt and Homer Ramsdell. President Jewett is of both committees, so that a full attendance gives four members of the Finance Committee and five of the Executive, and requires in each case three votes to settle any disputed point. The President, with several of the directors, is upon a tour of inspection of the road. These movements shadow a careful supervision, which the business of railroading so much needs. The superintendent of the eastern division of the road has just issued an order to his men, in which he tells them that the accidents which have lately occurred on the road have been the results of gross carelessness on the part of the employes, and warns them that hereafter he will immediately dismiss any man who is found guilty of neglect which might lead to an accident. The employes are also strictly forbidden to use any intoxicating drink while on duty, the penalty for a violation of this rule being the same, a peremptory discharge.

The coupons due July 1, 1874, on the bonds of the Union and Titusville Railroad Company, are payable at the northeast corner of Third and Dock streets.

The new trade dollar is becoming very popular. The San Francisco and Carson Mints are running to their full capacity coining them.

The exports of railway iron from Great Britain have presented some increase of late, having attained in June the very considerable total of 92,174 tons, as compared with 72,962 tons in June, 1873, and 81,164 tons in June, 1872.

Preparations are making at the New Orleans Mint for the resumption of assaying. No Business has been performed there since June 26, 1861, when the Confederate authorities took the property of the United States.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, August 8, 1874.

The markets generally have been moderately active during the past week, and notwithstanding the inquiry for the leading staples is still restricted to supplying immediate wants, there is a very fair amount of business in the aggregate. Our dispatches from Cincinnati and Chicago—our main sources of supply—report nothing new in connection with the Provisions trade; it begins to look, however, as if the market had reached the highest limit, although some operators predict a still further advance in Lard, as the market is virtually 'cornered'—stock is light and is controlled by speculators. The grain trade continues fairly active and Corn and Oats are higher, with limited receipts and considerable inquiry. The grocery market presents no new features to which reference has not already been made. Business continues pretty active in produce circles, altough commission merchants complain that in some instances they are obliged to sacrifice goods of a perishable nature, sometimes they are unable to realize sufficient to pay cost of transportation and commissions: this is especially applicable to vegetables and fruits, with which the market is overstocked.

APPLES—Selling at $1,50@2,50 ℔ brl, as to quality.

BERRIES—Blackberries quotable at $5,00@6,00 ℔ stand of two bushels. Whortle Berries, $1,25@1,50 ℔ bucket.

BEANS—Quiet and unchanged: $1,25@1,50 for mediums, and $2,75 for prime navies.

BUTTER—There is a fair demand, especially for the finer grades, but prices remain unchanged; prime to choice, 23@25c; medium to good, 15@20; common, 10@12. Common stock continues dull.

CHEESE—The market continues firm with a good demand, and prices are fully sustained. Prime Ohio Factory is quoted at 13@13½, and Ohio Sweitzer, 16@18, as to quality.

EGGS—Continue very dull and prices have still further declined: we reduce our quotations to 15@16c.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $6,75@7 for Wisconsins and $7,25@7,50 for Minnesotas; red winters, $6,50@7. Rye Flour, $5,75@6.

GROCERIES—Refined Sugars continue steady, although we did hear of a purchase, in New York, at a slight concession; the indications are that there will be a good trade in Sugars for a month or more to come, and it is not expected that there will be any quotable or general decline in prices until after the fruit season is over. Rio Coffee continues dull and weak, and prices in the seaboard markets are a shade lower. The stock of Coffee in this market is light, and our merchants generally are buying very sparingly, in expectation of a still further shrinkage in prices. Molasses, Syrups, Rice, etc., etc., quiet and unchanged.

SUGARS.—Patent Cut Loaf, 13; Granulated, 11¾c; Crushed, 11¾; Powdered, 11¾; Standard A, 11; B, 10½; Ex. C, 10¼; Franklin Extra C, 10; American Extra C, 9¾; Yellow Sugars, 7⅛ to 9 cents.

COFFEE.—Choice Rio, 26; prime, 25; good, 24; Roasted, 28c for 1 pound packages; loose, 27¼c; Old Government Java, 30c; Roasted, 41c.

MOLASSES—Strictly prime New Orleans, 90c; prime, 85c; good, 80c; common, 75c; Porto Rico, 70@75c.

SYRUPS—Fancy White Drips, $1,00@1,20; White Drips, 75c; Extra Sugar Drips, 65 to 70c; Amber, 60@65; Molasses Syrups, 35 to 50, as to quality.

RICE—Best Carolina, 9½; good, 9¼; Rangoon, 7½@8c; Patna, 8½c.

GRAIN—There is a fair degree of activity in grain circles, for this season of the year, but the markets are devoid of any new features to which reference has not already been made. Wheat is still quoted at $1 20@1,25 for new red and $1,25@1,30 for old, according to quality—white, 5 to 8 cents ℔ bushel additional, according to quality. The Oat market continues firm, but prices are so unsettled that it is difficult to quote correctly: new crop are being sold at 68@70 c, on spot, whereas we hear of offers to sell, to arrive, at 55@57. Old Oats, to use a common saying, are about played out. Ear Corn continues scarce and there is considerable inquiry for it; sales reported at 83@85. Shelled Corn is also in limited supply, but there does not appear to be so much inquiry for it. Rye is quoted nominally at $1.

HAY—The stock of baled appears to be accumulating again, indicating a dull market, although prices remain unchanged, ranging from $20@22 ℔ ton according to quality and condition.

POTATOES—Steady, with regular sales of fresh receipts at $3,75@4 ℔ brl.

PEACHES—Selling at $2,00@3 ℔ box, and the market closes better than it was in the early part of the week.

PROVISIONS—Following are the ruling rates: Hams—Extra Sugar Cured, per pound, 16¾; Shoulders—Extra Sugar Cured 11; Breakfast Bacon—Sugar Cured, 14½; Dried Beef—Ex. Sugar Cured, 18. Bacon—Shoulders, 10⅜ ℔ lb; Short Rib Sides, 13; Clear Sides, 13½; Mess Pork, ℔ brl, $25,50. Lard—Ref'nd for summer use in tres, 15¾; hlf brls, 15¾; bkts, 16¼; 3 lb caddies, 16¾; 5 lb. do, 16¾, 3 lb. pails, 17¼; 5 lb. do, 17.

POULTRY—Spring Chickens, 50@60c ℔ pair; old do, 70@75.

SEEDS—There is nothing doing in any kind of Seed excepting Timothy, which is still quoted at $3,50@3,75 ℔ bushel.

RAGS—2¾@3c ℔ lb.

TALLOW—6¾@7c ℔ lb.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS EAST LIBERTY, SATURDAY August 8, 1874.

ARRIVALS.

Following were the arrivals of the different kinds of stock for the week, and, to afford a comparison, we append those of the preceding week also:

| | This Week. | Last Week. |
|---|---|---|
| Cattle | 546 cars. | 365 cars. |
| Hogs | 114 " | 162 " |
| Sheep | 184 " | 103 " |
| Total | 844 " | 631 " |

FREIGHTS.

No change to note in freights, and, so far as we are aware of, none is contemplated. It is rumored, but we do not take much stock in the rumor, that the Northern Central has commenced to cut again, that it is not living up to the arrangement entered into by the trunk lines, and which went into effect on July 6th. We can hardly think it possible that the Company in question has commenced to act in bad faith, and, furthermore, we can see no inducement for such a movement. These rumors are frequently started without having any foundation, for a specific purpose, by interested parties, and the one in question may have originated in this way; a stock dealer just arrived here from Chicago, where he spent some time, reports that he heard nothing of it, and if there was anything in it—the rumor—it would no doubt leak out there before it would here. Following are the prevailing rates from this point eastward:

| | |
|---|---|
| To New York, ℔ cwt | 30 cents |
| To Philadelphia, ℔ cwt | 25 cents |
| To Baltimore, ℔ cwt | 25 cents |

CATTLE.

Business in this particular branch of the stock trade was unusually active, the sales being the largest we have had to record in a single week this year, hence, notwithstanding the arrivals were heavy, showing, as will be seen, an excess of 138 cars over those of last week, the demand was fully up to the supply, and, furthermore, prices were fully sustained. Some of the salesmen were apprehensive, in the early part of the week, in view of the increased receipts, that they would be obliged to make concessions especially as regards the common grades, but their apprehensions were not realized; as regards prime native steers, they met with a ready sale, and, in some instances, brought a slight advance. There was a very full attendance of buyers, and the Philadelphia dealers in particular, bought largely, which is evident from the fact that they had purchased 108 cars up until Thursday noon—we failed to learn how many they purchased since that time; country dealers and butchers also bought liberally, and then there were quite a number taken for New York, and to day there were but very few cattle in the yards excepting through consignments, which, of course, were not intended to be put on sale in this market.

QUOTATIONS.

|---|---|
| Extra 1,400@1,500 lb steers | 6 50@6 75 |
| Prime 1,200@1,300 steers | 6,00@6 25 |
| Good 1,000@1,100 | 5,25@5 75 |
| Texans, as to quality | 3,50@5,00 |
| Stockers, as to quality | 3,25@4,50 |
| Mixed rough stock | 2,50@3,50 |

SHEEP.

The arrivals for the week were the largest we have to report during the same time, for several years, footing up 184 cars, or calculating at 200 to the car, 36,800 head; it should be borne in mind, however, that a large proportion of these were through consignments—consisting of Jersey ewes, so that the actual supply on sale was not so much in excess of what it has been for some weeks past, and, furthermore the supply of prime fat sheep was scarcely equal to the demand. We are cognizant of several droves of good stock that brought fully as much as the same kind did last week, and Henry Krisman, who, as is well known picks up the bulk of all the good sheep that are offered here, says that he paid more. Scalawag stock, however, was very dull, as the supply of this character was in excess of the demand and prices were unsatisfactory to owners. The question is asked why is it that people will insist in glutting the market with this scalawag stock, knowing as they must that it can only be sold at ridiculously low prices, but it is easily explained. In consequence of the drouth, in many localities, the hay crop was very light and as growers will not have sufficient feed to winter their sheep, they are obliged to sell regardless of price. Here is where the trouble is: it is the scarcity of hay that is causing producers to market their sheep at the present time. Prime sheep are holding their own because they are scarce, and, furthermore, there is more inquiry for this than any other kind.

QUOTATIONS.

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Extra 100 lb fine wool | | 5,65@5,75 |
| Prime 90@95 lb | Do | 5 2@5,50 |
| Good 80@85 | Do | 4 50@5 00 |
| Fair 70@75 | Do | 3 50@4 00 |
| Open wool, as to quality | | 3 50@4 25 |
| Stockers, as to quality—℔ head | | $2,00@3,25 |

HOGS

The market has stiffened up very materially during the past week, good stock has steadily advanced until prices are back again to where they were prior to the break of last week. For this there are several reasons; the most prominent of which were decreased receipts and an advance in the West—our source of supply. Prime Philadelphia hogs sold this forenoon at 7.75@7.80; Baltimore hogs, 7@7¼, and grassers are quotable at 6¼@6¾, as to quality and condition. Nearly all the hogs that were bought for Baltimore last week lost money.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, August 8, 1874.

CRUDE

The market has been quiet but remarkably steady during the week which has just closed, and, notwithstanding Pittsburgh refiners bought very sparingly, buyers from other points, together with what is being tanked on speculation are, it is said, taking nearly the entire production. The best proof of this is the fact that prices have been so well sustained, and it is very evident, in view of the continued steady demand, that operators generally do not expect prices to decline much, if any, during the next month or so, otherwise they would pursue a different policy—they would not, after filling all their old tanks, build new ones with the same object in view. It is very evident that there are those who have faith in the article, otherwise they would not put their money in it as they are doing, and if it were not for the increased tankage, which, of course, increases the demand, as the new tanks are being put up by parties who want to fill them, the market could not be sustained. If there were no buyers but refiners, prices would not be where they are, and there is no getting over the fact that the raw article is to-day, and has been for some time past, higher relatively than the product; that, to afford a margin for profit, Crude should not be worth more than 75 cents per barrel instead of 95c.

REFINED.

The market was very steady and considerably firmer all week up until Friday, when some outsiders placed 30,000 barrels on sale, and thereby caused a reaction; to-day the market was reported weaker, with offers to sell August at 12—delivered in Philadelphia and September at 12⅞, a decline of an eighth, as compared with yesterday. So far as we can learn, there has been little or no oil sold by Pittsburgh refiners for several weeks, for the reason that the prices offered did not cover actual cost, and the indications are that those parties who are selling "short" at current rates will find that they have made a mistake. It is dangerous to go "short" in an article at rates that do not cover actual cost: most people of a speculative turn would prefer going "long" when the market was in the condition just noted.

BARRELS.

The market has been quiet all week, and prices have undergone but little change; countries, $1,40@1,45; citys, $1,55.

IRON MARKETS.

Reports from New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland and England.

NEW YORK—Bar—There are several large specifications to be placed and many small ones, which together with the fact that lower than 3 cent rates would entail a positive loss, makes the mills firmer in their views. Many of them are idle, and the statement is general that they will not start up again unless prices are remunerative. We quote 3 cent rates for Eastern mills, and 2.65 cent for Pittsburgh. Rails—The Rails mills were generally busier in July than in June, but without any improvement in prices. On the contrary the tendency is downward and there is no indication of a change for the better. We quote sections $55, cash, and $58 on time at mill. In foreign we hear of no further transactions, and quote Welsh at $47@50 gold. Prices in England are about £1 lower than at this time last year. American Pig—The market continues in the same state as for several weeks. There are no transactions reported except small lots to meet the present needs of buyers, without any signs of speculation. About two thousand tons of various brands are now offered to realize advances made by bankers. We quote Foundry No 1 $31@32; Foundry No 2 $29@30; Gray Forge $27@28.—Iron Age.

ENGLAND—A cable dispatch under date of 5th inst reports as follows: Scotch Pig—During the week the quotations for makers' Iron have gone up several shillings ℔ ton over the figures last quoted by cable, and the market is now firm at the rise, apparently owing to a general shipping demand, the returns for last week showing a considerable increase over the corresponding period last year. The following are makers prices:

| | |
|---|---|
| Gartsherrie No 1 | 117s 6d |
| Coltness No 1 | 117s 6d |
| Glengarnock No | 102s |
| Eglinton No 1 | 9's |

Manufactured Iron—The market continues quiet, without any change of importance during the week. Prices are steady at £10 10s@£12 for Best Staffordshire Bars. Rails—The market has been depressed, but has since rallied, and prices are now steady at last week's quotations, viz: £7 10s@£8 5s.

PHILADELPHIA—A correspondent writes to the "Iron Age" as follows: The general improvement in trade throughout the country is having a decided, a though gradual effect upon the Iron market and the feeling is notably more hopeful. The strongest indication which we have yet had that this improvement is real and progressive is from the Treasury Department and the Internal Revenue Bureau. In the one case the officials state that the national finances have seldom, in the first month of any fiscal year, warranted so hopeful an outlook as now: while the increasing receipts from customs shows that the country has, in a great measure, recovered from the effects of the panic. The increased internal revenue receipts also show a general business revival all over the country, sufficient, if continuing for some two months more, to warrant the Commissioner in anticipating a much larger revenue for the current fiscal year. Under such a condition of affairs it is evident that the iron trade cannot much longer suffer from the stagnation which has ruled now quite a year. The wisdom of Eastern millmen in advancing the price of bars to a figure which will admit of some profit, is also apparent, while the demand which will support such an advancement cannot be long delayed. A review of the condition of the Pig Metal trade throughout the country shows that stocks, both Eastern and Western, are being materially reduced, while in neither region is the production probably more than the demands of actual consumption. From the Lake Superior region reports show that the amount of ore mined this season has been particularly light, while the output has of late been entirely restricted by a strike among the miners. Should this continue, most of the furnaces of the Shenango and Mahoning valleys, which have bought sparingly of ores this season, will be curtailed in product, and a demand for Eastern Pig Metal arise to supply Pittsburgh. The amount of ore mined in Northern New York, New Jersey, and elsewhere east of the Alleghenies, has also been unusually light, so that any demand for Pig Metal would cause necessarily an advance in both raw material and product. Any sharp advance is neither to be expected nor desired, but the impression prevails very generally that the coming fortnight will show an increased business at better prices. Locally, there is no material change to note. The demand for foundry irons is somewhat stronger, and Gray Forge grows scarcer without any especial change. No speculative movement is yet visible, which, considering the abundance of money and low price of Pig Metal, is peculiar. The slight advance of Manufactured Irons abroad is counterbalanced by the low rates of freight which militate against any improvement in prices for the American manufacturer. Rails, which twelve months since paid twenty shillings freight, now come for from eight to ten shillings at the outside.

CLEVELAND—Read & Dickey, in their circular, report as follows: There is little new to be written since date of our last report. We hear of sales of small lots at a slight advance above the figures paid last week, owing more to the reluctance of manufacturers to make sales at any concessions from the outside figures quoted, than to any increased demand. The stocks of good Mill Iron are being gradually reduced, while the consumption is on the increase, and the production in this section is only up to about one third of the capacity. Under such a state of affairs, with increased ease in the money market, we think the furnace men have good grounds for anticipating and holding for better prices. The demand for Foundry Iron is light, and we are advised of some sales at a slight concession. Good Gray Forge and Foundry are selling at nearly the same figures. There is quite a stock of low grade Mill Iron on the market, which sells at a considerable loss than prices quoted, but has little or no effect upon the price demanded for really first class grades. In the absence of larger sales, the quotations of last week will fairly represent current rates.

GEORGE H. ROHE,
Observer, Signal Service, U. S. A.

The R. W. Dugan departed for Cincinnati with a good freight list, although she could not take much on the water. As noted in our last issue, she had to double trip it from Deadman.

The Wild Duck's barge of ore was still aground at Merrimen at last accounts, and it will probably have to remain there until there is more water.

The Esperanza was to have left Cincinnati for this port on Saturday.

The Exchange, Capt. Sam. Shuman, will be the next packet out for Cincinnati. She is the best low water packet on this end of the Ohio river.

—An incident. Charles Dittman and Charles Dufour are considered two of the best pilots in the Louisville and Cincinnati trade. They commenced their careers in the trade when mere boys. They were pilots on the ill fated Pat. Rogers. Charlie Dufour was at the wheel of the General Lytle when she exploded her boilers some years ago and he was at the wheel of the Pat. Rogers when she burned. Charles Dittman was 'off watch' and asleep in 'texas' when the American and United States collided and burned a few years ago. He was 'off watch and asleep in 'texas' when the Pat. Rogers burned, but alas! it was the last sleep of poor Charlie. The two Charlies were partners on the America, and they were partners on the Pat. Rogers.—Louisville Courier.

—A singular and painful coincidence occurred by the burning of the Pat. Rogers and the loss of that estimable gentleman, J. S. Stuart, of Madison. But a few years ago Mr. Len Vance was superintendent of the Madison Dock and Railway Company. He was lost when the United States collided with the America, the latter being burned. Mr. Stuart succeeded him, and now, within a few hundred yards of the same place where Vance was lost, he meets with a similar fate on the Pat. Rogers.

—The Ohio River Transportation Company has procured a charter and effected an organization at Wheeling. They propose to build a passenger and light freight steamer, something like the Katydid but having staterooms, to run between Wheeling and Huntingdon. The Directors are: Ed. Muhleman, O. H. Booth, Fred. Huseman and M. Sheets. Officers were elected as follows: President, Crawford H. Booth, Superintendent, Ed. Muhleman, Secretary and Treasurer, M. Sheets.

—The LaCrosse "Republican Leader" of the 4th says: The Clinton came up last night loaded down with harvest hands. There was never known such a rush as has been witnessed this season. Towns on the river between LaCrosse and St Paul are said to be overrun with harvest seekers, while thousand have flocked to the interior of Minnesota for work.

—Commodore W. F. Davidson, of St. Louis, was in Cincinnati on Friday. The St. Louis "Globe" says that twenty five years ago he carried pig iron in the hot sun for $18 per month, but now he carries a couple of millions in his pocket.

—Among the bodies recovered on Friday from the wreck of the Pat Rogers, were Charles H. Dittman, pilot, Charles Reisinger, striker, Jacob Light, stewart, and a fireman. The body of Sherley Snyder was taken out of the river at Rising Sun, having floated about ten miles.

—A company from above have contracted at the Ironton Boat Yard for a steamboat hull and cabin, the measurement being 125 in length by 28 in width. The steamer will enter the trade between Millersport and Kanawha.

—A heavy rain storm fell in the vicinity of Evansville, early on Friday morning, and boats were compelled to lay up.

—Wednesday's Chattanooga papers say that the Tennessee river was falling rapidly, but do not give the stage of water.

—The Kanawha river was rising at Charleston, on Friday, with four feet.

HOME NEWS.

Beaver College.

Parents and guardians having children to educate should visit this very accessible and flourishing institution. Dr. Taylor has been at its head for fifteen years, and is ably sustained by his ample Faculty. The musical advantages are superior. The paintings of the last class were of a high order.

Runaway in Allegheny.

Last evening at eight o'clock, two horses attached to a buggy, in which was seated a little daughter of Mr. Thomas Hammel, ran off on North Diamond street, Allegheny, and at the corner of West Diamond street the buggy collided with a heavy wagon and one of the wheels was torn off and the buggy badly damaged. The little girl escaped uninjured.

Escaped from the House of Refuge.

On Saturday evening, three boys, inmates of the House of Refuge, in the Ninth ward, Allegheny, succeeded in making their escape from that institution. It appears that they had obtained a rope by some means, and with it reached the top of the wall, and from there jumped down upon a pile of boards near the wall and escaped. The police were at once notified, but up to last evening no trace of them had been found.

Runaway and Accident.

Yesterday afternoon a man named John Smith hired a horse and buggy from Fairman & Vogt in Allegheny and took his wife out Penn avenue. As they were driving along, the horse became frightened and ran off, and after going a short distance the lady was thrown out, falling upon her head she was rendered insensible and was found to be badly injured. She was removed to her home and medical aid summoned.

Accidentally Drowned.

Coroner McCallin yesterday held an inquest on the body of James Stewart, a boy seven-and-one-half years of age, who fell into the Monongahela River on Saturday evening and was drowned. The lad in company with another boy had been playing on some rafts and it is supposed fell from one of them into the river. His body was recovered about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A verdict of accidental drowning was rendered. The parents of the deceased reside at No. 113 Seventeenth street, Twenty-sixth ward.

Juvenile Burglars.

About seven o'clock last evening officers McAfee and Kreuter arrested three boys named George O'Neill, James O'Neill and James Welsh, who had burglariously entered Pittock's book store, and were caught in the very act of rifling the money drawer. The boys had effected an entrance by forcing open a window in the rear of the store, and when arrested a number of checks used for newsboys, and a quantity of scrip and coppers were found in their possession. They were locked up for a hearing this morning, when in all probability they will be sent to the House of Refuge.

Bill in Equity.

A bill in equity was filed in the District Court on Saturday by Alexander McJunkin, and R. Gogan against John Carpenter, James McJunkin et al. The plaintiffs are citizens and property-holders in Plum township, and the defendants are the School Directors of said township. The action is brought to obtain first a preliminary and afterwards a permanent injunction to restrain the defendants from tearing down the school house in Jackson school district, and putting up a new building on its site.

The Court fixed September 5th, at ten A. M., for a hearing.

Missing Man.

Information was brought to the Mayor's office yesterday, that a man named James Kerr, has been missed from his home at Latrobe. It appears that Mr. Kerr has for some time been suffering from aberration of the mind, and it is feared by his friends that he has wandered to this city. He is described as about five feet high, with black hair and heavy moustache of the same color. He is about thirty-seven years of age. Any information as to his whereabouts may be sent to his brother, John Kerr, at Youngstown, Westmoreland county, or left with Captain Irwin at the Central Station House.

A New Military Battalion.

For some time past there has been talk of organizing a new battalion which, as regards proficiency in military tactics, is to be second to none in the State. The only company now recruiting is the Latta Guards, named in honor of the Adjutant General of the State. There will be an election for officers held, under direction of Generals Pearson and Miller, at the Thirteenth ward School house this evening at seven and a half o'clock.

The young men from the hill wards desiring to join the ranks are invited to be present at the meeting.

Too Much Commission.

The report of Malcom Hay, appointed auditor to pass upon the exceptions filed by the heirs against the Safe Deposit Company as administrator of the estate of Robert Bell, was filed in the Orphans' Court Saturday, and approved. He reports that the Safe Deposit Company charged too large a commission for settling the estate; that it was not entitled to the full five per cent. commission, having had no responsibility. The commission charged amounted to some $7,000 or $8,000, which the auditor reduced one-half. The balance in the hands of the administrator, after deducting the costs of the audit, is $142,107.87, which goes to four heirs in England.

The Thirteenth Ward School Trouble.

The school trouble in the Thirteenth ward is getting more delightfully mixed every day. On Saturday Alonzo Early made an affidavit before Alderman Kreuter alleging that Mr. Martin Harrison, brother of James Harrison, Principal of the Thirteenth ward school, stated in F. J. Hauch's drug store that a man named Winfield Smith stated that for money he would quash the proceeding of the pending Investigating Committee of the Thirteenth ward, and that the same statement was made on the second day of August, that day being Sabbath. F. W. Niemann also made affidavit before the same magistrate, stating that Mr. Martin Harrison told him that Winfield Smith's object was money in investigating the proceedings of the Thirteenth ward school directors.

Assaulted on the Highway.

About one o'clock on Sunday morning two men named Joseph Stewart and James Gallagher attacked two brothers named Dillon, at the corner of Wylie avenue and Fifth street, and knocking them down attempted to rob them of their money. Before accomplishing their purpose, however, they were frightened off by the prompt arrival of the police, attracted by the Dillons, and in a few minutes after were arrested in a court on Grant street, just below Alderman McMaster's office. They were arraigned at the hearing yesterday morning, and Stewart was fined $50 and costs and Gallagher $25 and costs, or in default of payment imprisoned in the workhouse. The police deserve credit for the prompt manner in which these roughs were arrested. Officers Berger, Harrison, Keefer, Kreuter and others being right on time.

Struck by a Handy-billy.

About four o'clock yesterday morning Lieutenant Sol. Coulson observed two men fighting on the GAZETTE office corner, while a third was looking on. He proceeded to arrest the fighters and when he had taken them into custody one of them drew a handy-billy and struck Coulson on the forehead so severe a blow, as to knock him down. All three then took to their heels and ran away, but the Lieutenant soon recovered his feet and started in pursuit. He overtook and arrested two but the third, who struck the blow with the "billy," escaped. One of the prisoners, named McCormick, made a determined resistance and fought the officer all the way to the lock-up. The other, named Murphy, was turned over to the custody of Officer Huffmeyer, but he broke away from him and was not recaptured until after quite a busy chase. McCormick was yesterday fined $25 and costs and in default committed to the Workhouse for thirty days. Murphy was discharged on paying $3 and costs.

Division of the Seventh Ward.

In the Court of Quarter Sessions, on Saturday, United States District Attorney Reed presented a petition asking for the division of the Seventh Ward, under the new Constitution, into election precincts. The following districts, as recommended in the petition, were approved by the Court.

First District—Commencing at the southwest corner of Logan and Wylie streets, running along the west side of Logan street to Fifth avenue, thence along the South side of Fifth avenue to Congress street, thence along the east side of Congress street to Wylie street, and along the south side of Wylie street to the place of beginning.

Second District—Commencing at the southwest corner of Congress street, running along to Fifth avenue, thence along north side of Fifth avenue to Chatham street, thence along the east side of Chatham street to Wylie street to place of beginning.

Third District—Commencing at the northeast corner of Washington street and Wylie avenue, thence along Wylie avenue to Logan street, thence along the west side of Logan street to Faber street, thence along the south side of Faber street to Washington street, thence along the east side of Washington street to the place of beginning.

The following election officers were approved:

First District—Judge, J. D. McFarland; inspectors, Jas. K Scott, (rep) C. B. Morey, (dem.;) assessor, Wm. Fleming.

Second District—Judge, Wm. Douglass; inspectors, Joseph A. Butler (rep.), Thomas Hogan, (dem.); assessor, Wm. J. Logan.

Third District—Judge, Luke Chapman; inspectors, Alexander Mitchell, (rep.), Wm. McLaughlin, (dem.); assessor Robert Flinn.

A FRIGHTFUL FALL.

A Woman Falls Over an Embankment.

On Saturday morning a lady named Mrs. Mayberry, living on Locust street, in the Sixth ward, met with a serious accident by falling over a precipice, a distance of about forty feet. Locust street had been graded down recently, and the house in which Mrs. M. resided had been left standing some forty feet above the street. At the time above stated she started out of her residence to feed her cow. She threw the feed into the barrel, when the cow, in her eagerness for the food, upset the barrel which started with quite a velocity down the precipice. In her attempt to grasp it she was precipitated over the embankment, and when picked up was in an insensible and mangled condition. Dr. Rex was summoned, who has no hopes of her recovery.

Dr. Gale French,
DENTIST,
258 Penn Avenue.

If this does not effect a cure, use the bacon soda as risin for bread and then eat the bread." Patent applied for.

....The Lawrenceville Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Lea, pastor, has been presented with a very fine organ. It is eighteen feet high, sixteen feet wide, and fourteen deep. It contains 1,100 pipes, and has twenty stops controlled by the organist. It has also two and five-eighths octaves of pedal base, two banks of keys and weighs nine thousand pounds. This handsome gift is from a member of the church.

....W. W. Ingram, a New York merchant, was arrested in Meadville on Saturday by Deputy Marshal Rouse, for addressing a postal card containing indecent language to a Meadville damsel. The charge was preferred by Postmaster Vincent, and after a hearing before Commissioner Force, the defendant was held to bail in the sum of $3,000 for his appearance at the October session of the United States Court.

....A Uniontown correspondent writes us an account of the proceedings of the Conference of the Zion church at that place but has not given himself time to write carefully, and we for fear we get the proper names of those who shared in the debates incorrect, withheld the article. We gather from the manuscript, however, that among those present were Elder Wm. H. Hamilton, Dr. Mathew and the ubiquitous and zealous Dr. Williams. We also learn that certain charges against somebody which gave rise to a somewhat excited discussion were happily withdrawn, and peace and good order prevailed.

....On Saturday, in the Court of Quarter Sessions, District Attorney Bayne presented a petition signed by numerous residents of Pittsburgh praying the Court to appoint a Commission, in accordance with section 11 of article 8 of the new Constitution, to divide the city into voting districts, no one to contain more than two hundred and fifty voters, also giving said Commission power to recommend the election officers to be appointed. The petition was granted, and the Court appointed the following Commission: Dr. A. H. Gross and Messrs. James Irwin, James A. McDevitt, S. S. Boggs and James W. Patterson. The report of the Commission will of course be subject to the approval of the Court.

THE CINCINNATI BRIDGE.

Its Proposed Position Opposed by Coal and Steamboat Men—Committee Appointed to Meet U. S. Engineers.

The Coal Exchange and Steamboatmen's Association held a special meeting on Saturday at the corner of Market and Water streets. Captain William Oliver was called to the chair, and stated the object of the meeting to be to appoint a committee composed of pilots, captains and others interested in the building of the Southern Railroad Bridge at Cincinnati, which would affect the channel at that point. So that the position of the bridge might be better understood by those present, Mr. Schoonmaker read the following extract from a letter written by Thomas Sherlock, Esq., to Mr. W. H. Brown:

"The piers it is said by the railroad engineer are parallel with the current of the river. On the Kentucky side is to be a draw or pivot, opening on either side of the pier one hundred and sixty feet of clear channel; next is a channel way (without draw) of four hundred feet, and next another like channel way. The law governing the building of bridges on the Ohio river fixes the height here at one hundred feet above low water. As I understand the law, the Secretary of War may approve the location and plans, and then nothing can be done. It is therefore of importance if there be objections, to make them known at once, or at least have the Secretary of War to have the subject examined by United States engineers, and then objections may be made. While, as our steamboatmen believe, the bridge thus located will be a serious obstruction to freight and passenger boats, it is thought it will be still more objectionable to the coal towing interests. This is a matter in which you gentlemen in the coal interest are more interested than we of the merchant service."

The question of bridge building was discussed at considerable length, during which Mr. Blackmore stated it was the intention of the railroad authorities to place the draw of the Southern bridge on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river, where the channel runs. This the river men oppose and desire it put on the Ohio side. Capts. Reese, Walton, Brown, Dravo, Lysle and others took part in the discussion, and all agreed with the position assumed by Capt. Blackmore, that the bridge, as proposed to be built, was a nuisance.

The following gentlemen were finally appointed to appear before the Board of United States Engineers, which will be in session at Cincinnati to-day. Captain N. J. Bigley, Jas. A. Blackmore, and Samuel S. Brown and Addison Lysle. As there were also two pilots requested to be in attendance, Messrs. Wash Gray and Benjamin Hall were selected. The meeting then adjourned.

THE BOARD OF PARDONS.

Allegheny County Applications Refused, Granted and Held Under Advisement.

The session of the Board of Pardons closed last week at Harrisburg after the transaction of a large amount of business. The only Allegheny county case in which a pardon was recommended is that of Peter Loringer, who was sentenced to four years in the Western Penitentiary for involuntary manslaughter in September, 1873. The reasons for a favorable consideration of the application are that the man is dying with consumption, and that executive clemency is asked for by the District Attorney who tried the case and the jurors who found a verdict of guilty. The prisoner had been in jail fifteen months before he was sentenced. The following applications were refused: James Harn, of Beaver county, sentenced to ten years for murder. James N. Mackey, of Pittsburgh, sentenced to one year in the Allegheny Work House for keeping a bawdy house. Henry Knolle, of Allegheny county, shooting with intent to kill, and sentenced to three years and three months. The following cases are under advisement: Henry Briceland, sentenced to death in Washington county for killing a farmer by means of an infernal machine. The case was ably argued on both sides before the Board, the discussion lasting several hours. Two thousand names are appended to a petition for pardon. John Harrison, of Allegheny county, larceny. Rev. D. I. K. Rine, of Allegheny county, larceny. Charles Osgood, of Mercer, embezzling $600 or $700. Dr. F. B. Cooper, of Allegheny county, adultery. In regard to the applications for the commutation of the death sentences of Edward E. Udderzook, of Chester, and Ambrose E. Lynch, of Allegheny county, to imprisonment for life, the present Board of Pardon Commissioners declare they have no power in the premises. The counsel for Ortwein will be notified that they must appear before the Board in October, and show cause why a death warrant should not issue. The cases of Udderzook and Lynch will also come up again then.

ALLEGHENY WATER.

The Supply Very Short.

It was thought by Superintendent Paul of the Allegheny Water Works, that he would be able yesterday to start the Lowry engine again, but the work has not progressed as rapidly as he expected, and consequently the big engine will not be used until about the middle of the present week. The second supply pipe from the river into the pit in the works was completed on Saturday night, and yesterday the old engines had to be stopped to make the necessary connections with this pipe, and of course no water was pumped into the reservoir, which was thought to contain sufficient supply for all day yesterday. During the afternoon, however, Mr. Paul discovered that the water was getting very low in the basin, much faster than it should under ordinary circumstances, and he at once started out to find the leak. After considerable hunting he found that the six inch main running under the river over to Herr's Island had burst in the middle of the river, and the water was pouring out at a fearful rate. He at once shut off the supply to the island and stopped the waste. It is not known when the pipe bursted, but it is thought that it occurred on Saturday night, and so much water was lost that the citizens of Allegheny are requested to be careful to waste no water to-day or to morow, until the usual supply can again be raised in the reservoir.

EXCITING BOAT RACE.

Two Reverend Doctors try their Skill at Rowing.

Quite an exciting boat race between Dr. Hodge, of Allegheny City, and Dr. Paxton, of this city, took place on Lake Chautauqua, on Saturday morning last. The two gentlemen, judging from the way in which they made the water fly, are not the best oarsmen in the world, but both acted nobly, considering the short time they have been practicing. A gentleman who witnessed the race informs us that the opinion of those who are well versed in the art of rowing, was, that Dr. Paxton is the most skilful of the two, and handled his oars much better than Dr. Hodge, but that Dr. H. had the advantage in wind, and being a man of more muscle than his opponent, he came in first. The distance rowed was about twenty-five yards, and although this course was certainly a short one the effort so completely overcame Dr. Paxton that it took one man to steady the boat while another assisted the doctor to get to land. Dr. Hodge was so elated over his success that he did not wait to be assisted out of his boat, but succeeded, without much effort, in getting one foot upon the land and the other into the lake. Through the assistance of a kind lady friend he soon planted himself safely on shore. After receiving the congratulations of their friends who witnessed the race, they shook hands and left on the steamer Col. Phillips for the Sabbath School Convention.

FRIGHTENED OFF.

Attempted Burglary on Penn Street.

About four o'clock yesterday morning, burglars made an attempt to enter the residence of Mr. Divinney, at No. 309 Penn street. They selected a rear door for their operations, and had succeded in unlocking it and were working at a bolt, when their noise awoke Mr. Divinney. That gentleman opened the window of his bed room, which alarmed the burglars and they ran off. Mr. D., fired three or four shots after the fugitives, but so far as known none of them took effect. The men were well dressed and wore mocassins for the purpose of smothering the noise of their footsteps. This is the fourth time within the past three months that burglars have attempted to effect an entrance into Mr. Divinney's house and they have each time been frightened away before accomplishing their purpose.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

A Son of Æsculapius in Trouble—A Lancaster Lady Sues Him for $25,000.

Some time in the month of June last, Mr. T. Walter Day, counsel for Miss Ella J. Baer, a resident of Lancaster, filed in the Prothonotary's office in this county, the papers in a breach of promise case against Dr. John A. Barr, a young physician of wealth in Westmoreland county. After the suit had been entered a capias was issued and placed in the hands of the Sheriff, but he failed to find the defendant in this county.

The case was finally transferred to Greensburg, the county in which the defendant lives, and he was arrested and released on five thousand dollars bail for his appearance at Court. The plaintiff alleges that the parties were engaged at the city of Lancaster, February 20, 1873, and that afterwards the 19th day of May, 1874, was fixed as the day of the marriage. She made preparation for that event, going to great expense, only to be disappointed by the Doctor, who broke off the engagement because he had centred his affections on another lady. The plaintiff claims that by the violation of this marital contract she has suffered damage to the amount of $25,000. She has retained as her counsel quite an array of legal talent, including T. Walter Day, Esq., and Messrs. Wier & Gibson, of this city, and James M. Carpenter, Esq., of Greensburg. It is said the plaintiff has in her possession about sixty letters referring to the engagement, which will be produced at the trial.

The high standing of the parties, the amount of damages claimed, and the peculiar circumstances in the case will attach no little interest to it when it comes to trial.

THREE ATTEMPTS AT SELF-DESTRUCTION.

Critical Condition of the Would-be Suicidist.

A woman by the name of Mrs. Shahay, residing at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Smallman streets, made three unsuccessful attempts to commit suicide on last Thursday afternoon. She first put her fingers down her throat and tried to injure her windpipe, causing the blood to flow. She then took a stick of wood and attempted to drive it down her throat, when some of the women in the neighborhood stopped her. She then tried to drown herself. She started down Twenty-fourth street to the river, when a woman living in the same house with her called on the men at Smith's pipe foundry to stop her. They caught her, but thinking she had stolen something from the house, let her go. After the men found what was the matter, however, they followed her and caught her at the river bank, where she was making preparations to end her earthly career. She was sent back and a doctor sent for, who did all he could to relieve her, but on the following evening she was lying in a critical condition with but little hopes of recovery entertained by her friends. She was very flighty most of the time and demanded the closest attention. It is said she told her neighbors a few days ago that she expected to be burned to death, and in order to avoid such a calamity she attempted suicide. She had been very despondent and had been suffering from sickness for some days. These things together with the idleness of her husband for two weeks, being unable to obtain employment, possibly led her to attempt self-destruction. She has a family of four small children.

ON THE RAMPAGE.

Another Steer in Allegheny.

About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a Texan steer was observed walking down Chestnut street, Allegheny. At the corner of South Canal street it laid down, and a crowd soon collected around it and began to annoy it. One man obtained a long pole, and placing his hat on one end of it poked at the brute until it became so angry that it jumped up and gave chase to its tormenters, who quickly withdrew to a safe distance. At this time officer McIntyre, seeing the crowd, ran down to see what the trouble was, and observing the bovine standing there he picked up a stick and went to drive it away. It suddently leaped at him and catching him on its horns hurled him about ten feet, bruising the man badly. It then turned and broke through the crowd, knocking three men down and inflicting a wound on the head of one of them. It ran around the streets for some time, when a rope was obtained and it was lassoed and tied to a freight car standing on the railroad track. The steer belongs to James Hunter a stock dealer in Allegheny.

PUGILISTIC ENCOUNTERS.

Free Fights in the Vicinity of Wylie Avenue.

The people of the Seventh and Eighth wards have been blessed with fights in abundance since Saturday night. It appears that there exists in that locality a party consisting of half a dozen men or more, who have different notions concerning religious matters, and they determined to settle the matter by force. On Saturday night two of the party met on Poplar alley and engaged in a free knock down which lasted for some minutes. This stirred the blood of the balance, and yesterday two more encounters took place, one on Logan street near Webster and the other on Wylie avenue above Elm. In the Logan street difficulty Samuel Brown states that he was cut above the eye and in the side by one John McClure, and has accordingly made an information before Alderman Joseph Butler, charging said McClure with felonious assault and battery. The case will come up for a hearing at ten o'clock to-day. These pugilistic performances were not confined alone to the white population. Two colored men were engaged in trying their muscle yesterday afternoon a little farther out Wylie avenue near Vine street, in an open lot. They were observed by a policeman who made for them, but as they discovered his advance upon them, they started to run, when they were precipitated over an embankment, and on reaching the bottom gained their feet and made good their escape. It is thought by the residents in that locality that the end of the chapter has not yet been reached, but that others will be compelled to face the music.

CUTTING AFFRAY.

A Man Fearfully Butchered.

Two men by the name of Connelly got into a difficulty yesterday morning at about half past two o'clock, which will result, it is thought, fatally to one of the parties. It appears that an old grudge has existed for some time between them, and yesterday morning, they went into a saloon, at a point known as Limerick, at the lower end of Temperanceville, a short distance below the Clinton mills, at the hour above named, where they began drinking very freely, which they kept up for sometime. After having "gotten away" with enough of the "spirits" to make them feel good, they went outside and were soon engaged in a quarrel. Words were freely exchanged, which resulted in blows, and finally to the use of the knife. A number of the men inside heard the difficulty, and on going out found Connelly No. 1, with the head of Connelly No. 2 under his left arm, while in his right hand was a knife, which he was using and with which he inflicted frightful wounds. After the combatants had been separated, it was found that No. 2 had received a fearful gash in the abdomen, which laid bare his bowels, and which may prove fatal. Besides this he had received a number of wounds in the breast, which were bleeding profusely. His lip was cut entirely in two on the right side of his face, and taking all together he was completely used up. Drs. Stevenson and Donnelly were called, and dressed the wounds of the bleeding victim, but in an interview with one of these gentlemen, he expressed his doubts of the recovery of the unfortunate being. The wounded man has been engaged as a laborer in the opening of Forbes street, in this city for some time past, and was at his post of duty all last week. It is probable, however, that his work in that capacity is ended.

KINDERGARTEN.

Arrival of Miss Peabody in the City.

Miss Peabody, who is looked upon as the apostle of the system of Kindergartens, arrived in this city yesterday from Detroit. The lady is a native of Boston, about seventy years of age and a very excellent and thoughtful speaker. Her object in visiting Pittsburgh is to awaken an interest among our people as to the peculiar system of education of which she is the advocate. To this end a meeting will be held in the Third Presbyterian Church this afternoon, when Miss Peabody will explain the Kindergarten system and speak of its advantages. Those who wish to hear something new, graphically described, should not forget this meeting.

Miss Peabody goes from here to Shippensburg to be present at the State Teachers' Convention and endeavor to interest our educators in the new system.

A Remarkable Case.

The Shenango Valley Argus states that Mrs. Jared Simmons, of Fredonia, Mercer county, has been afflicted with ovarian tumor and ascites for the last year, and has been under the care of Dr. Byle, of Fredonia. On the 21 of June, she was paracentated for ascites by Drs. Cossitt and Byle, they drew off three and a half gallons of water. Since that time she has been operated on by Dr. Byle twice, extracting a similar quantity each time. Dr. Atlee, of Lancaster, was called on the 28th of July and an operation was performed by him, with the assistance of Dr. Gillett, of Franklin, and Dr. Cossitt, of Greenville, who were selected by Dr. Byle; Drs. Ross and Twitmire were also present. Dr. Atlee was about one hour in performing the operation. She was kept under the influence of chloroform while he removed the tumor and aqueous fluid to the amount of thirty-two pounds. Dr. Cossitt returned the sixth day after the operation and assisted Dr. Byle in dressing the wound, which had united by the first intention. She says she has suffered no pain nor lost sleep since the operation and now feels quite well. Her recovery is almost certain, so decided by her physicians.

A case of a similar kind exists in upper St. Clair township, in this county, the patient requiring an operation every two weeks.

Abusing His Wife.

At an early hour this morning loud cries of "murder" and "police" were heard issuing from a house on Virgin alley. The police ran to the place and found that an Italian named Bancquini had been brutally beating his wife. Though the house was searched by Lieutenant Coulson and two or three other officers, the wife beater could not be found, and the woman refused to give any information as to his place of hiding.

Shoes for the Million.

This idea must inevitably follow an inspection of the immense stock of boots and shoes which Mr. R. Taggart, No. 129 Federal street, Allegheny City, has just secured for the fall trade. Shoes in the basement, shoes on the first floor and every nook and corner crammed full of boots and shoes to the very roof. The young and the old, the rich and the poor, the laborer and the aristocrat can all be accommodated with the best quality of boots and shoes, at prices lower than at any time within fifteen years.

European Steamship Arrivals Saturday.

A dispatch received at Max Schamberg's European Steamship, Exchange and Telegraph Office, at No. 163 Smithfield street, announces the arrival of the steamer Frankfort, at New York; steamer Gallic, at New York; steamer Alexandria, at New York, steamer Abyssinia, at Queenstown.

AQUATIC SPORTS.

Boat Race at Oil City—The Contest Between Two of the Barge-Club Crews on the Allegheny.

The long talked of boat race between the Columbia crew, of Pittsburgh, and the Third Ward boys of Oil City, took place on Saturday, at Oil City, at 7 o'clock in the evening. At the appointed time the boats were in line, and the Columbias, who had won the choice of position, chose the inside. When the word was given, the Third Warders took the lead and kept it for half a mile, when the Columbias made a spurt and were gaining on them rapidly, when the Third Ward boys pulled across the river and ran into the Columbias, landing both shells on a sandbar. A friend shoved the Third Warders off, but Billy Jackson, bow oarsman, was compelled to leave his place to release the Columbia, and after taking his position the crew again started after their competitors, whom they passed before the stake boat was reached, and led all the way back, winning the race by ten lengths. Time twenty minutes and ten seconds. The Columbia crew was composed of Louis Cavitt, Ed. Powell, Wm. Jackson, jr., and Robert Brown. Captain Gracia acted as referee. A. V. Forse and Captain Hasson were selected as judges, the former for the Pittsburgh and the latter for the Oil City club. There was a large attendance to witness the race.

The contest between two of the Barge club crews on Saturday afternoon at half past four o'clock, on the Allegheny course, was looked forward to with much interest by our citizens. At an early hour a large crowd had assembled—the banks being well lined with spectators, and the suspension bridge being filled almost to its entire capacity. Dozens of small boats were upon the water waiting for the appearance of the contestants. At the appointed time the shells, "Allegheny" and "Whisper," containing the contesting crews, took their positions and when the word was given the Allegheny shot two lengths ahead easily, and continued to gain until five lengths were awarded to the boys. The friends of the favorites stood by them well, hanging to the delusive hope that the professionals were only drawing them on to give them a good setting down on the home stretch. Both boats turned a pier at the Mechanic street bridge and turned their backs upon home with a fixed determination to win or exhaust their muscle. It seemed impossible for the favorites to gain even an inch, although they worked very hard. The other crew pulled handsomely, their oars cutting the water so clean that they scarcely made a ripple. The others pulled the Yale stroke, but either did not do it very well or it is not as handsome as the old one. With a difference of at least four lengths against the favorites, the boats swept into the shadow of the Suspension bridge. The distance rowed was one and three-quarter miles; time, eleven minutes and a half. It is said another race will be pulled by the same crews next Saturday with their boats exchanged, as the defeated crew claim their oars were not adapted to their boat.

A SECOND RACE.

The barge "Alice," with her crew of eight oars, accepted a challenge from the "Naiad," a six oared boat, to pull from Hand street to the Suspension Bridge. They came down in fine style and by a very judicious application of muscle the Alice passed under the bridge half a length ahead amid the shouts from the multitude.

FUTURE RACES

The race arranged between Bob. Brown, of the Columbia, and Newton Feighley, late of the Fisher, will come off on the Allegheny course next Friday for a purse of two hundred dollars.

Pat. Louther, of the Clipper club, and William Jackson, of the Columbia, completed arrangements for their race, which is to come off on next Saturday. The last of the two hundred and fifty dollars a side was put up and Henry M. Long chosen as referee. Both of these races will be good ones and there is already considerable interest manifested in them.

AN EXCITING RACE.

A Clear Case of Deception.

On last Thursday morning as our reporter was perambulating along the front street, in Glasgow borough, just below Smith's Ferry, calmly surveying the drift-wood, and turbid waters of the Ohio river, he was surprised to see a large skiff round a neighboring curve in the river, and drift sideways down the stream. No signs of life was visible about the skiff; but a good deal of life was exhibited along the Smith's Ferry, and Georgetown shores as soon as the skiff hove in sight from around the bend. Nearly every person on either side of the river who owns a skiff, immediately concluded that they would secure the floating prize, if good rowing and muscle were of any avail. Accordingly a number of the skiff's on either shore well manned, and equipped, started in hot pursuit. A large number of people had gathered upon the banks of the river to witness the race, and envy the fortunate winner. With one man in the stern of each boat, ready to grasp the coveted prize, as soon as they could come up with her, and several oarsmen uniting their best efforts and exhibiting a good deal of muscle and ability, the race now became very exciting. Owing to extra exertion put forth by the oarsmen, one of the boats would shoot ahead for a moment, only to be overtaken by two of its closest competitors, and the nearer they approached the boat drifting ahead, the larger and more valuable the same appeared. The interest usually displayed at a first-class horse race, would be but a poor comparison to the excitement now exhibited by the spectators on shore. Experienced pilots on the Georgetown side give speedy directions concerning the channel in that vicinity; busy housewives paused from their morning's work to witness the race; all the dogs in town are barking as if a fox hunt was about to be entered upon, and a number of boyish voices join in the chorus, "I bet on the one that beats." The three fleetest boats are now abreast and are within a few feet of the prize; but as the first man reaches forth to seize a rope attached to the object of their closely-contested race, two youthful forms suddenly rise from the bottom of the drifting skiff, and placing their oars in position row rapidly off, but were soon overtaken by their pursuers, who didn't see a bit of fun in such a joke; but after being well splashed and threatened with lynching the perpetrators, two boys living near Smith's Ferry, were allowed to pass on.—Beaver Argus and Radical.

IS YOUR STOMACH UNEASY?

Many a dyspeptic would be willing, it is said, to give half his wealth for an easy stomach. If this is a fact, why do any of our "solid men" continue to endure the pangs of indigestion? Is it not patent to the whole community that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure the worst cases of chronic dyspepsia in six or eight weeks? No occasion for the expenditure of half a fortune; a few dollars will suffice to accomplish the object. Surely every man who is not "sand blind" to the great utilitarian facts of the day must know that this celebrated vegetable specific promptly relieves all diseased conditions of the stomach, liver, bowels and nervous system, restores their vigor and imparts regularity to their functions. Is your epigastrium uneasy? Is the vulture, disease, gnawing at your liver? If so, resort at once to the Bitters.

EMBOSSING, WATER-MARKS, PRINTING, PAPER STYLE OF MANUFACTURE.

All of the above Envelopes and Wrappers must be embossed with postage stamps of such denominations, styles, and colors, must have such water-marks or other devices to prevent imitation, and must bear such printing as the Postmaster General may direct. The envelopes must be made in the most thorough manner, equal in every respect to the samples furnished to bidders by the Department. The paper must be of approved quality, specially manufactured for the purpose.

DIES.

The dies for embossing the postage stamps on the envelopes and wrappers are to be executed to the satisfaction of the Postmaster General, in the best style, and they are to be provided, renewed, and kept in order at the expense of the contractor. The Department reserves the right of requiring new dies for any stamps or denominations of stamps not now used, and any changes of dies or colors shall be made without extra charge.

Before entering into a contract the successful bidder may be required to prepare and submit new dies for the approval of the Department. The use of the present dies may or may not be continued.

The dies, as soon as made, shall become the property of the United States, and shall be safely and securely kept by the contractor, and should the use of any of them be temporarily or permanently discontinued they shall be promptly turned over to the Post Office Department, or its agent, as the Postmaster General may direct.

GUM.

The envelopes must be thoroughly and perfectly gummed, the gumming on the flap of each (except for circulars) to be put on by hand not less than half an inch the entire length; the wrappers to be also hand gummed not less than three fourths of an inch in width across the end.

SECURITY FROM FIRE AND THEFT.

Bidders are notified that the Department will require, as a condition of the contract, that the envelopes and wrappers shall be manufactured and stored in apartments separate and distinct from those in which any other work is done, and in such a manner as to insure security against loss by fire or theft.

The manufactory must at all times be subject to the inspection of an agent of the Department, who will require the stipulations of the contract to be faithfully observed.

The contractor, his employes, and agents shall conform to such regulations as the Department may from time to time adopt for the security of the Government.

PACKING.

All envelopes and wrappers must be banded in parcels of twenty-five, and packed in strong pasteboard or straw boxes, securely bound on all the edges and corners with cotton or linen cloth glued on, each box to contain not less than two hundred and fifty of the note and letter sizes, and one hundred each of the official or extra official size, separately. The newspaper wrappers to be packed in boxes, to contain not less than two hundred and fifty each. The boxes are to be wrapped and securely fastened in strong manilla paper, and sealed so as to safely bear transportation by mail for delivery to postmasters. When two thousand or more envelopes or wrappers are required to fill the order of a postmaster, the straw or pasteboard boxes containing the same must be packed in strong wooden cases, well strapped with hoop-iron, and addressed; but when less than two thousand are required, proper labels of direction, to be furnished by an agent of the Department, must be placed upon each package by the contractor. Wooden cases, containing envelopes or wrappers, to be transported by water routes, must be provided with suitable water-proofing. The whole to be done under the inspection and direction of an agent of the Department.

DELIVERY.

The envelopes and wrappers must be ready for delivery on the 1st day of October, 1874, and thereafter must be promptly furnished and delivered, complete in all respects, in such quantities as may be required to fill the daily orders of postmasters; the deliveries to be made either at the Post Office Department, Washington, D. C., or at the office of an agent duly authorized to inspect and receive the same; the place of delivery to be at the option of the Postmaster General, and the cost of delivering, as well as all expense of storing, packing, addressing, labeling, and water-proofing to be paid by the contractor.

OFFICE ROOMS AND FURNITURE.

An agent of the Department will have supervision of the manufacture, storage, and issue of the stamped envelopes and wrappers, and he shall at all times have full and free access to the apartments, safes and vaults where the same are manufactured and stored, for the purpose of inspecting the same; and the contractor shall furnish him and his clerks suitable office and desk-room, for the transaction of the business of his agency, without cost to the Government.

The contractor may also be required to furnish, without charge, suitable and properly furnished rooms for use of the post office in registering packages of envelopes and wrappers to be forwarded through the mails.

STOCK ON HAND.

The contractor shall at all times keep on hand a stock of the several kinds and denominations of envelopes and wrappers, subject to the control of the agent of the Department, in all stages of manufacture, sufficient to meet all orders of the Department, and to provide against any and all contingencies that may be likely to occur during the existence of the contract, so that each and every order of the Department may be promptly filled.

PAYMENTS.

Payments for stamped envelopes and wrappers actually issued and delivered will be made quarterly, after proper examination and adjustment of accounts.

(United States Statutes at Large, volume 5, page 526,) approved August 26, 1842, which act provides that in case the contractor shall fail to comply with the terms of the contract he and his sureties shall be liable for the forfeiture specified in such contract as liquidated damages, to be sued for in the name of the United States, in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

If the contractor to whom the first award may be made should fail to enter into agreement and give satisfactory bonds, as herein provided, then the award may be annulled and the contract let to the next lowest responsible bidder, and so on until the required agreement and bonds are executed; and such next lowest bidder shall be required to fulfill every stipulation embraced herein, as if he were the original party to whom the contract was awarded.

The agreement will also provide that if at any time during the continuance of the contract the sureties shall die, or become irresponsible for the entire penalty of the bond, the Postmaster General shall have the right to require a new bond with additional and sufficient sureties, which the contractor shall furnish to the acceptance of the Postmaster General within ten days after notice, and in default thereof the contract may be annulled.

CONTRACT NOT ASSIGNABLE.

The contract cannot, in any case, be lawfully transferred or assigned.

RESERVATION.

The Postmaster General reserves the right to reject any and all bids if, in his judgment, the interests of the Government require it; also the right to annul the contract if, in his opinion, there shall be a failure at any time to perform faithfully any of its stipulations, or in case of a willful attempt to impose upon the Department stamped envelopes and wrappers inferior to those now in use.

EXTENSION.

Should the interest of the Government require, this contract may be extended beyond the time named, not exceeding three months, by order of the Postmaster General, and the contract prices, and all conditions herein set forth shall govern in such extended contract.
